WISCONSIN GOP VOTERS INVITED TO CROSS OVER

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) Monday challenged the Eisenhower administration to a test of strength in Tuesday's Wisconsin primary. The outcome might have a vital effect on his own as well as President Eisenhower's candidacies.

Kefauver issued through his office here an invitation for Wisconsin Republicans—particularly farmers—to cross over to the Democratic side and vote for him "to register their just protest against the sorry performance in office of the present administration."

This bold move put the Democratic presidential hopeful in the position of being willing to match his vote total against that of Eisenhower in the Republican primary.

In some quarters, Kefauver's maneuver was regarded as a long-range gamble. It was aimed, it was said, at demonstrating that if he should win the Democratic nomination he would run a strong race against Eisenhower.

Kefauver is unopposed in his bid for the state's 28 Democratic presidential nominating votes. Eisenhower has only taken opposition in the Republican primary from John B. Chapple of Ashland, a foreign policy dissenter.

Any showing by Kefauver closely approaching Eisenhower's vote would be unexpected and would boom Kefauver's chances for the Democratic nomination. It also might speed up a re-examination begun by Republicans of Kefauver's record after Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson between them polled more votes than the GOP in the March 20 Minnesota primary. Many Republicans crossed over to the Democratic side in that election.

Either Ballot
In Wisconsin, voters must cast their ballots only for candidates whose names are printed on the ballots. They can use either a Republican or a Democratic ballot, but not both and no write-ins are permitted.

On the other hand, if Kefauver fails to run anywhere near Eisenhower in the Wisconsin primary, his bid for his party's nomination would suffer a setback because of the demonstration that he lacks the popularity of the President.

In 1952, Kefauver got about 207,000 votes in the Wisconsin Democratic primary. In a three-way race, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Earl Warren of California and Alford E. Stassen, now a presidential assistant, rolled up 776,000 GOP votes.

This 3-1 ratio of Republican over Democratic votes is not expected to be repeated this year, since there is no major contest within the GOP primary as there was four years ago.

If Kefauver had not drawn the direct issue and had not publicly invited GOP support, he thus could have claimed something of a victory with a vote total as low as one third of that registered by Eisenhower. Now he apparently will have to do much better or lose his gamble.

However, Republicans evidently crossed party lines in Minnesota and Kefauver expressed confidence "Wisconsin's independent and liberal Republican voters will join us Democrats in repudiating an administration which has catered almost exclusively to special interests."

Voicing the hope that tomorrow's balloting will be on vital issues "rather than on the personalities of the individual candidates," Kefauver said in a statement:

An Important Issue
"One of those issues, most certainly, is the crisis on our farms which has a direct bearing upon the personal well-being of every resident of Wisconsin—whether they make their living as farmers, small businessmen or as wage earners."

"I believe that Wisconsin's farmers will receive the warm support of other Wisconsin voters in utilizing Tuesday's primary as an opportunity to register their just protest against the sorry performance in office of the present administration."

Two Cars, Truck Smash Up On Road

The truck crunched over a boat and trailer being towed by the car, ended up partly atop the car, and pushed the auto into another stopped car. Three persons riding in the car shown were injured. Bureau Chief Richard O'Malley Charged With 'Illegal' Money Transaction By Kremlin

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Richard K. O'Malley, Associated Press chief of bureau in Moscow, was given seven days to leave the Soviet Union after being charged with illegal currency transactions. He arrived in Stockholm Sunday.

O'Malley was called to the press department of the Soviet Foreign Office March 28. Leonid F. Ilyichev, chief of the Soviet press department, read the following statement to him:

"The Soviet criminal police have prepared charges against you of illegal currency transactions. This is a criminal offense punishable by a prison term. The Soviet government is not interested in seeing this case brought to trial. Therefore, you have seven days in which to leave the territory of the Soviet Union. This time will not be extended. I have nothing further to add."

O'Malley said Ilyichev declined to give details or specifications of the charges.

'Confident'

In New York, Frank Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press, stated:

"We are confident that O'Malley did not engage in any financial transactions except those which are considered routine in Moscow and frequently cannot be avoided by the foreign resident. He is an exceptionally able and gifted reporter. His expulsion means losing the services of a man particularly competent to report on the Russian scene. I think it is also a loss for the Soviet, which presumably is interested in accurate and competent reporting of its news."

Bureau Chief

O'Malley, 43, has been chief of the Moscow bureau since Oct. 7, 1955. Previously he served Associated Press bureaus in Denver, Tokyo, Berlin and Frankfurt. He is a native of Portland, Ore., attended Montana State University and worked on newspapers in Missoula, Helena and Great Falls before joining the Associated Press at Helena in December 1942.

City Dropping Case Against Train Engineer

City Prosecutor Tom Gorham said Monday no complaint will be issued against the engineer of the Denver Zephyr that smashed into a car March 18 at 33rd and the Burlington tracks.

Three persons were killed in the wreck.

Engineer of the train, No. 1, was J. C. Ryason, Creston, Ia. He originally had been scheduled for a court appearance on April 2 after being issued a ticket by the Police Department.

Gorham said Monday that prosecution under such an antiquated law (1922 limiting train speeds to 18 miles an hour) would be unfair to the person involved.

At the time of the accident, the engineer said the train was going about 70 miles an hour.

41 Demos Seek Posts As Convention Delegates

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Nine sets of petitions nominating 41 persons as candidates for delegates and alternates to the Democratic national convention in Chicago were filed with Secretary of State Frank Marshall Monday. The filing was made by Willard Townsend of Lincoln, acting state chairman, and Paul Busch, Howells, chairman of a special committee named by the party organization to circulate petitions in behalf of all party candidates.

Busch said the petitions carried 10,750 names from 85 of the state's 93 counties. Republican circulators said their petitions carried between 5,000 and 6,000. However, the count with names duplicating on state and district levels brought the GOP total to 15,226.

Townsend said there is competition for each of the 24 seats allocated to the state at the convention. The 41 candidates will compete at the May 15 primary for the 12 delegates and a like number of alternate seats.

Candidates paid a fee of $100 for delegates-at-large and $50 for alternates with $50 for district delegates and $25 for alternates for circulation of petitions. After expenses balance will provide a headquarters at the convention and the balance goes to the party treasury.

State Punched By Hard Storms

Moisture Comes On High Winds

Record-Making Heat Pushed Out By Lincoln's .66 Of An Inch

Storm-like conditions buffeted most of the state Monday evening as hail hammered down in several areas, snow fell in others and thunderstorms prevailed elsewhere.

Although the moisture, as much as an inch in a short time at Hastings, promised relief to parched, brittle farm lands, the weather was miserable in comparison to record-breaking temperatures that prevailed over the Easter weekend.

The CAA measured winds gusting up to 75 mph Monday at the Lincoln Air Base at 9:20 p.m.

The western part of the state was hit hard by a winter-like storm that dropped temperatures way below freezing and made road travel hazardous, if not impossible.

Sidney had heavy blowing snow early Tuesday morning and the State Patrol said travel was "not recommended." Chadron had freezing drizzle and snow. North Platte, Imperial, and Scottsbluff had snow.

66 In Lincoln
An unofficial .66 inch of rain soaked downtown Lincoln by 10:30 p.m. Monday with an unofficial .70 reported at a south Lincoln rain gauge. The Lincoln Airport had .96 of an inch.

Temperatures between 8 and 9 p.m. dropped from 69 degrees to 42 degrees—a drop of 27 degrees within the hour.

Very light hail hit south Lincoln while heavier hail was reported north of the city.

A heavy thunderstorm hit Omaha sending the mercury plummeting 22 degrees—from 70 to 49—in 20 minutes. There was a half inch of rain there.

Heavy winds interrupted the Associated Press Wirephoto service network south of Lincoln Monday night, but service was restored within a short time. The network services The Star.

Power Failures
Elsewhere around the Lincoln area short power failures caused by blustery winds kept crews busy. The failures were not major or prolonged.

By late Monday evening, heavy rains had fallen in much of the southeast area. Seward reported about an inch of rainfall in a 45 minute period, accompanied by very strong winds.

Exeter and Sutton had both received about .75 inch within an hour or two, and rain was still falling. Strong winds were blowing at Exeter.

Other areas reporting rain were Friend, about .50 inch in half an hour; Dorchester, Crete, about .30; and Holdrege had "just a sprinkle."

The cold front began its eastward trudge across the state Monday sending temperatures plummeting and bringing snow at Chadron, Scottsbluff and Sidney. Freezing drizzle fell Monday night at Alliance, Sidney and Imperial reported light drizzling rain.

Both Grand Island and Hastings reported an inch of rain in a two-hour span, with more falling. Hail beat down at Grand Island, Hastings and Kearney.

The Weather Bureau late Monday issued a special warning of possible tornadoes in all of central Kansas, southeastern Nebraska and north central Oklahoma.

The danger was to have lasted until midnight, the special bulletin said.

The Chicago Weather Bureau Monday evening reported five confirmed tornadoes in the Kansas-Oklahoma area.

The Weather Bureau forecast called for snow or rain changing to snow in the west with heavy snow likely in the extreme north central. Brief showers were seen for the southeast Tuesday night and snow flurries were to end in the extreme northeast Wednesday.

Northerly winds were to increase by Tuesday morning to a velocity between 30 to 50 mph. Snow was to diminish by Tuesday night.

Colder temperatures were expected in the east and central Tuesday with the high ranging from in the 30s in the northwest to the 40s southeast.

FRANTIC CRASH SURVIVOR

33 SAVED IN CRASH OF AIRLINER

... 4 Dead, 1 Missing

SEATTLE (INS)—A New York bound Northwest Orient Airlines luxury plane with 38 persons aboard crashed landed in Puget Sound shortly after takeoff Monday and at least 33 persons were known to have survived.

King County Coroner John Brill said four persons were known dead. Another person was listed as missing.

He was identified as David V. Reay, Seattle, flight service attendant for Northwest, who was presumed to have been trapped in the sunken plane.

The Seattle-to-New York airliner carried a six-member crew and 32 passengers, including women, children and five officials of the Boeing Airplane Co., builders of the huge double-decked Stratocruiser.

Those killed in the Puget Sound crash included:

Paul Wehrman, of Seattle, a Boeing employee.

Tusi Kong Liu, a Chinese woman about 40, continuing a flight to New York that began at Hong Kong.

Cee Sau Foon, about 8, a Chinese boy en route to New York.

Dr. George B. Hook, of Tacoma, Wash.

The pilot, Capt. Robert Heard, 36, of Seattle, a 20-year veteran, said the four-engine plane performed perfectly on its takeoff.

Shuddered
At 1,200 feet—3 1/2 minutes out of Seattle-Tacoma International Airport—the Stratocruiser shuddered, lost altitude, continued to shake.

Pilot Heard flashed an SOS, headed for a tail-drown water landing, still with power on all four engines.

The plane's tail plowed a speed-slowing furor in the water between Ft. Robinson, Maury Island, and Des Moines on the mainland. It hit and sank 12 minutes later.

In the 12 minutes the big plane stayed afloat, passengers scrambled out on its wide wings, clearing a door and an emergency exit without panic. All were told to take seat cushions. Most did.

New Red A-Blast Revealed

Strauss Notes Report Of Explosion Is Sixth In Past 8 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia, while proposing an immediate international ban on atomic weapons tests, has continued to set off its own nuclear explosions, the United States reported Monday night.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission announced that "The Soviet Union in recent days has conducted another nuclear test in their current series."

Strauss did not specify in his two-sentence announcement whether the Russians exploded an atomic or hydrogen device. He did note "this is the sixth United States announcement of Soviet weapons tests in the past eight months."

Last week the Kremlin submitted a new disarmament plan to a United Nations subcommittee meeting in London. One of its provisions was a prompt ban on atomic tests. The United States has rejected similar Russian proposals in the past, holding such experiments are necessary so long as the threat of war hangs over the world.

This government itself plans a series of tests in the Eniwetok-Bikini area of the Pacific this spring. It will allow U.S. newsmen and photographers their first opportunity to give eyewitness reports of an H-bomb explosion.

'Pool'
By agreement of the AEC and the Pentagon, a "pool" of 15 news and cameramen will be permitted to observe a test about May 1 at the Eniwetok Proving Ground.

Russia first claimed publicly to have detonated an H-bomb in August, 1953. Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party chief, said a few months ago the Russians last year exploded one with a force of "many millions" of tons of TNT.

That general description allowed for no sure comparison with U.S. capabilities. The most powerful bomb this country has set off—two years ago in the Pacific—unleashed power reportedly equivalent to 15-17 million tons of TNT.

Ike Prods For 'Good Farm Bill' Promptly

Two Other Ag Measures Are Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Monday he wants "to get a good farm bill and to get it promptly."

Eisenhower made the statement in connection with his signing of two special agriculture bills passed by Congress.

He would save farmers an estimated 60 million dollars a year by exempting them from the 2-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax on gas used in farming.

"Relieving the farmer of the federal tax on purchases of gasoline used on the farm will lower production costs and help alleviate the cost-price squeeze," Eisenhower said.

10-Million Boost
The other new law raises from 50 million dollars to 60 million the money for the school milk program for the fiscal year ending June 30. It extends the program for two more years and authorizes up to 75 million a year for those two years, Eisenhower said.

"This forward looking program greatly benefits the health of our children... an excellent example of how we can make constructive use of our nation's abundance by developing expanded outlets."

Speaking generally, Eisenhower said:

"These two bills are parts of a nine-point program I sent to Congress on Jan. 9 of this year. They constitute an important step forward in our agricultural program."

"The next step is to get a good farm bill and to get it promptly." A conference committee is now wrestling with the job of adjusting Senate and House versions of a new over-all farm bill. Both versions contain features Eisenhower has frowned on, notably a return to rigid price supports.

No Definition

Eisenhower's statement Monday did not define "a good farm bill," but he has described the legislation passed by the Senate as "workable, and likely to bury the farmer under new crop surpluses."

Rep. Arends (R-Ill.) accused Democrats Monday of "deliberate" trying to write a farm bill that the President will necessarily have to veto to protect the welfare of our farmers and the country as a whole.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Department officials reported they see little opportunity for the proposed new soil bank to help farmers this year.

Accordingly, they are looking through laws already on the books to see what they might use to good effect.

Officials who said the soil bank benefits have a slim chance of operating this year based their belief on the possibility President Eisenhower might veto the farm bill now in the making, or there might not be enough time to put the soil bank into effect.

Planting Has Started
The system proposes paying farmers $1,200,000,000 a year for taking land out of production of crops already in surplus. However, the planting season has already begun.

Reds Get Property For $2,100 Cash Transaction Agreed By U.S. In 4 Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — The Treasury Department Monday agreed to let the Communist party bail out its frozen assets in four cities for $2,100 in cash.

The party's newspaper, the Daily Worker, was not included in the agreement. It was being discussed separately.

The assets covered are those at the national headquarters in New York and branch Communist centers in Philadelphia, Detroit, and San Francisco.

The Treasury Department last Tuesday seized party property in four cities in default of $389,263 allegedly owed in back income taxes.

Also seized was Red property in Los Angeles and Newark, N. J. The Daily Worker was taken over and padlocked under a separate lien for $48,049 in back taxes.

In nearly all cases, the government found itself with a handful of battered equipment worth relatively little in resale value. The object of the surprise seizure was to enable the government to sell the assets for back taxes.

Newark Seizure
NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — The government Monday seized the physical assets of the Communist party in New Jersey in an almost barren second floor office here and forcibly ejected an occupant.

The seizure by Treasury agents followed by three hours a press conference held in the office by Mrs. Martha Stone Asher, one of six Communists convicted last week in New Haven, Conn., for violating the Smith Act.

The seizure was part of the federal action to attach liens against the Communist party nationally.

Notice of the seizure was served on Charles Nussner of Newark, identified as the public relations director of the party in New Jersey.

Judge John Jacobson Asks Re-Election

Municipal Judge John Jacobson announced Monday he will seek re-election to the Municipal Court for the approaching four-year term.

The judge's filing Monday was the fourth for the two judgeships that will be available for the term starting Jan. 1. The past Legislature voted to increase the Municipal Court to two seats because of the work load being handled in the Lincoln court.

Judge Jacobson, the incumbent, has presided over the Municipal Bench the past four years — with only two months off during that time — since his election in 1952.

He had been appointed to the bench by Gov. Val Peterson. Judge Jacobson had served as substitute judge under five governors by appointment, ever since the court started operations in 1928. He received appointments from Govs. Adam McMullen, Charles W. Bryan, R. L. Cochran, Dwight Griswold and Peterson.

City Attorney
Prior to his last appointment, Judge Jacobson was serving as Lincoln's city attorney, a post he held for four years. During that time, he completely recodified the city's ordinances.

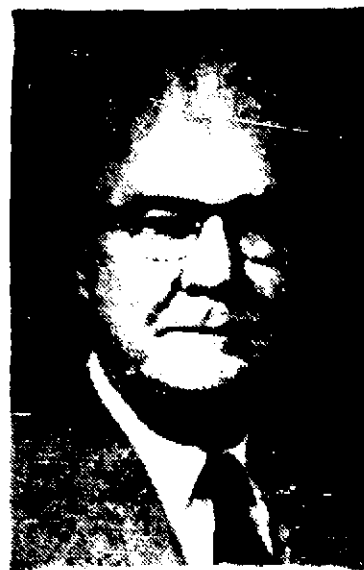

The judge was a member of the state attorney general's staff for two terms.

Three other candidates have filed for the city judgeships. They are Edwin Dosek, attorney and named outstanding young man by the Lincoln Jaycees; former mayor R. O. Johnson; and Leo Bartunek, Lincoln attorney.

Jacobson, 63, lives at 3030 R with his wife, Elvaree.

'Experience' Needed
Of his filing for re-election, Judge Jacobson says the establishing of a two-court bench in Lincoln will require experience, which he has, to make it a smoothly functioning court.

The next four years of the court, he said, will be important because of its expanded use and function. Judge Jacobson has been admitted to practice in all courts,

Iraq's Young King Opens Huge Dam

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq's young King Faisal formally opened Monday the first completed project of an ambitious economic development program which will be the country's long-range answer to the challenge of Communism.

The 30-year-old monarch cut a ribbon opening the Tharthar Valley Dam, the result of two years' work to end disastrous spring flooding of the swollen Tigris River and divert its water for irrigation.

The Tharthar project cost about 30 million dollars. It is part of the Iraqi development program inaugurated in 1951 under which 70 per cent of Iraqi oil royalties are plowed into the national economy.

The dam is located just outside the ancient city of Samarra 70 miles north of Baghdad.

Broadened Fraud Law Requested

... By Brownell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Brownell Monday asked Congress for a broadened fraud statute which would permit the Justice Department to go after crooked stock promoters now evading the law by operating from Canada and Mexico.

In letters to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), Brownell noted that the present statute forbids use of any interstate communications facility in connection with confidence games or other frauds. He asked that the law be amended to cover both interstate and foreign communications.

Brownell said a case involving a stock fraud arose last year in which a Los Angeles victim was contacted by telephone from Mexico. The department instituted an action under the Transportation of Stolen Properties Act, alleging the securities had been stolen, but decided that it could not invoke the communications prohibition because of the narrow wording of the law.

The use of interstate communications to promote frauds is punishable by $1,000 fine, five years imprisonment or both.

Gaines To Helm Of Lincoln NAACP

Raymond Gaines was installed as president of the Lincoln chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Monday night at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church at 12 and F.

He replaced outgoing president Gladys Bradford.

Uriel Blacksher was installed as vice-president, William Bell as treasurer and Mrs. Leolo Billock as secretary.

The group also renewed its local charter. The Rev. E. L. Streeter of Omaha, president of the Omaha chapter of NAACP, presided over the installment ceremonies.

NEGRO BOYCOTT LEADERS DENIED BUS LINE OKAY

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Rev. M. L. King Jr. and several other leaders of the Negro boycott against Montgomery City Lines buses were denied city permission Monday to establish and operate an all-Negro bus company.

The delegation most of whom are under indictment on charges of conspiring to boycott the segregated buses, proposed that a new company "owned and operated by Montgomery Negroes" be licensed to "provide adequate transportation for our people."

City Commissioners, who met with the group to hear 90 minutes, denied the application for a franchise on the grounds that the present bus company is offering "excellent bus service for the entire city."

Mayor W. A. Gayle, saying bus revenue from the city as a whole would not support two bus companies, suggested the Negroes request Montgomery City Lines to operate buses exclusively for them.

As to an earlier request that Negro drivers be employed on predominantly Negro routes, the mayor said, "That is up to the bus company altogether. It's their money, and they have the right to hire whom they please."

There are also indications that the proposed $1.5 million bond issue for street improvements will be materially reduced and possibly taken off the June 26 ballot also.

According to Jeary there was never any assurance given of what propositions would be placed on the ballot. The Council, he said, agreed to a June 26 election with details as to its scope to be determined later.

LINCOLN STAR SPECIAL
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Three men accused of being Arkansas "silk stocking bandits" were arraigned on robbery charges Monday.

Charged with robbing a restaurant chief here were Lawrence Ortiz, 26, of Lincoln, Neb.; John Edward Crook, 32, of Superior, Wis.; and Nicholas Martin Comanche, 23, of Denver.

Ortiz has previously served a 32-month term in the Nebraska Penitentiary for burglary, 18 months in the State Reformatory for carrying a concealed weapon and three years in the Penitentiary for burglary.

He was last released from the Nebraska Penitentiary Oct. 14, 1955.

The three men were also suspected of robbing a Hoxie, Ark. grocer. In both incidents, the bandits masked their faces with women's stockings.

Council Called To 'Lead' On Bond Issues

A Wednesday afternoon meeting of the City Council has been called by Mayor Clark Jeary for the group "to assume its proper leadership" regarding proposals scheduled to go on the June 26 special election ballot.

It is time, Jeary said, that the Council tried to determine exactly what proposals will be placed on the ballot and in what form. An Authority has been created, Jeary said, to handle the proposed joint city-county building so the Council will not take up that issue.

However, he said, there are the hospital, library, street and sewer proposals to be worked out. The Council is expected to agree with Jeary that the $4 million bond issue for sanitary sewer improvements can not be submitted this June.

There are also indications that the proposed $1.5 million bond issue for street improvements will be materially reduced and possibly taken off the June 26 ballot also.

According to Jeary there was never any assurance given of what propositions would be placed on the ballot. The Council, he said, agreed to a June 26 election with details as to its scope to be determined later.

Park Board, Fund Urge Rogers Tract Hospital

Development Would Include Recreation Site

The Lincoln Community Hospital Fund and the City Park and Recreation Advisory Board have jointly recommended a $4.8 million bond issue proposal for the medical center-park development of the Rogers Tract, 33rd and O.

According to the recommendation the 50-acre tract "has been selected for the proposed Lincoln Medical Center in order to be within safe ambulance time and easy availability of all parts of Lincoln and its foreseeable growth."

The 300-bed hospital and associated Lincoln Rehabilitation Center would be located near the center of the tract, with the remainder of the area being developed as a park and recreation campus.

Pool Planned
The campus plans include "daylight only" recreation facilities with a swimming pool, recreation picnic building, several tennis courts and baseball and play fields.

The hospital would be arranged for sound control to avoid noise and light interference. Hospital windows would remain closed due to year around temperature control and air conditioning.

About $105,000 of the medical center development funds are budgeted for site planning of approximately 20 acres, according to the joint statement it also points out that there would be no land acquisition costs because the property is already owned by the City.

Costs Divided
"Tentative plans of the park and recreation board would divide the development costs of the remaining approximately 30 acres so that $125,000 would go to plantings, parking and walks, and $175,000 for daylight recreation facilities," according to the statement.

The campus and off-street parking for the medical center would be available to the park and vice-versa.

Site planning was done by Clark and Enersen who were employed by the City and the Lincoln Community Hospital Fund.

Although the Lincoln Community Hospital Fund had already endorsed the plan, the two groups jointly agreed to recommend the two amounts as one ballot proposition "because of the common development scheme and joint planning problems," according to the recommendation.

The joint recommendation was signed by Thomas C. Woods, president of the Lincoln Park and Recreation Advisory Board, and Joe R. Seacrest, president of the Lincoln Community Hospital Fund.

Improvement Job Contracts Given

The City Council awarded contracts on five improvement projects with a combined total cost of $157,049.

The largest single project is the Havelock storm outlet awarded to Chambers Construction Co. for $54,352. The paving of Leighton, Cotner to 70th and 68th and 70th from Leighton to Walker was awarded to Abel Construction Co. for $34,845.

Dobson Bros. was awarded a $30,546 contract for re-construction of 14th from U to Vine. The cost of this project will be paid by the University of Nebraska.

For water mains in Meador Lane addition, Dobson & Robinson were given the contract for $24,197 while Chambers will construct the sanitary sewers for $13,009.

Unique Claim

DETROIT (AP)—Even the judge agreed Thomas Davis had a unique story when arraigned on a drunk driving charge.

Davis said a bartender refused to cash his pay check Saturday unless he bought a drink. "I had only one little one," Davis said.

Judge George Murphy changed the charge to a lesser count of reckless driving and fined Davis $75. If convicted of drunk driving under Detroit law, Davis would have faced a mandatory jail sentence.

Nebraska's Primary

To all outward evidence, at least, Nebraska's 1958 presidential primary will fail to produce any contests in either political party. Nebraska's Fred Seaton was yet to file the petitions for President Eisenhower as a matter of form to find out whether the President's popularity rates that accorded him in 1952. And in the Democratic presidential primary, the only candidate is Sen. Estes Kefauver, whose petitions were filed a few days ago by Frank Morrison.

In the Republican presidential primary in 1952, there were six names on the ballot, with the voters centering largely upon three. The late Sen. Robert Taft, supported by the Butler forces largely, polled 67,642 votes in a count short an approximate 120 precincts. Gen. Eisenhower for whom a write-in campaign had been organized received 53,877, and Harold E. Stassen, third in the race, who four years earlier had been high man in Nebraska, got 46,112. The Democratic primary vote was divided between Kefauver, with 34,457 in Nebraska—an approximate 600 more than the write-in campaign brought Gen. Eisenhower; Kefauver's chief contestant, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, polled a vote of 36,101. And Adlai Stevenson, for whom the Nebraska delegation cast the majority of its ballots in Chicago in 1952, got 304—all write-ins, since Mr. Stevenson's name did not appear on the ballot.

A recent reference by an outside editor that the Republican old guard had failed to cast its ballot for President Eisenhower simply meant that the old guard stuck by its guns to the end and continued to support the late Sen. Taft who did walk away with the top position in the Nebraska primary.

Iceland Exercises A Right

It has come as a shock to most Americans to learn that the parliament of Iceland has voted 31 to 18 to ask the withdrawal of American Army, Navy and Air forces. The presumption has been that Iceland has prospered from the arrangement without loss of sovereignty while the forces of the West have benefited equally in the strategic guarding of the left flank.

American forces have occupied Iceland during the war period of 1941-47 and again since 1951 by treaty. The present treaty provides that either party can end the arrangement by 18 months advance notice.

Iceland's reason for serving notice, it is reported, stems from dissatisfaction over the poor state of its fishing industry. Under the circumstances it cannot sell enough fish. The real reason, a laudable one, actually stems from western concepts—the small nation, any nation's right to self-determination. The West attributes rights to them and honors those rights.

This is in contrast to the Russian attitude which makes a lesser power serve the Russian interest. An act of discrimination had to be involved against Russia which would have resulted in a political prize and a victory for Icelandic wishes.

Such an alternative surely will occur to Iceland together with the realization that a strategic place continues to be one whether treaties are nullified or not. Iceland alone is unable to maintain either neutrality or self-determination.

In the 12 months to come there is every reason to believe that the U.S. attitude will be amicable and constructive. Meantime the United States, remnant of its international philosophy, which grants to Iceland the right to make decisions, must rely on the same philosophy in the negotiations now forthcoming to restore a wholesome relationship so mutually advantageous.

Demonstration Of Cooperation

Mutually considerate agreements over the week-end between the Consumers Public Power District and the Central Public Power and Irrigation District greatly brightened the future electric power picture for central and eastern Nebraska.

Central proposed to take the responsibility to build the plant when it developed that one would be needed by 1958 to avert a state power shortage—a timely proposal in view of the fact that the other major agencies were not in a clear position to supply the need.

There is controversy over future functions and relationships between Nebraska's major public power agencies. But Nebraska has just witnessed a signal example of cooperation by all of them in an instance where the inter-agency differences came into the presence of the state's best interest. The differences were submerged and the state was served.

This is especially reassuring. Public power went a long way in demonstrating its validity and its right to occupy the important role as purveyor and producer of Nebraska electric power. The public is more inclined to play a hands off policy in the inter-agency efforts to rearrange their relationships. Such basic consideration for the state's best interest gives a shading to public power reorganization more in the color of a zealous grappling with inevitable problems of growth and change demanding wholesome and wise remedies than one of contending for narrow advantages.

Bill Was Vetoed

Governor Harriman of New York vetoed his legislature's bill to make parents liable up to $250 for intentional acts of vandalism committed by their children.

That ended for the time being a tempting adventure into a new area of curbing juvenile delinquency and also of an experiment with the Chinese custom of making the head of the family responsible for its acts.

But Governor Harriman based his veto on the double conviction that such penalties would work an unreasonable hardship on low income families and also the prospect of indemnity would only make more tense a family situation in which delinquency had become an acute problem. In short he didn't believe that such an approach would abate delinquency.

The veto leaves the injured party—the one made victim of vandalism—without adequate relief and suggests that possibly had the bill made the application of indemnity a matter of judicial discretion, based upon the court's judgment as to whether in a specific instance it would either abate delinquency or remove the protection given to parents who are able to pay, it could have survived and rendered some benefit to the delinquency matter.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

If only a small portion of some of the plans for the next 10 years materializes, some of the impoverished peoples of the world may regain the glory that was theirs while desert lands bloom again.

Not the least of interesting developments is the announcement that two Americans have undertaken a project which some day may restore the fertility and prosperity of an ancient province of the ruined Persian empire which flourished 25 centuries ago. The two are David Lillenthal, one of the original directors and later chairman of TVA and the Atomic Energy Commission, and Gordon R. Clapp, who followed Lillenthal as the head of TVA. After a month's preliminary study in Iran, they signed a five-year contract to initiate an extensive survey of resources of the Khuzestan region of southwest Iran, a section corresponding largely to the pre-Christian kingdom of Susiana, described in the Bible as Elam. Its principal city became the capital of the vast Persian empire under Darius nearly 2,500 years ago. Once its fertile lowlands produced great quantities of grain, and according to the historians, supported more than 10 million people.

But since the destruction of its ancient irrigation canals and canals, it has become almost a desert, the home of an estimated million or substantially fewer roving desert tribesmen. Now rich in oil, its people could not exist except for oil and the gas which it produces in vast quantities. With a crop underground and with a potential production above ground of needed foods, both Mr. Lillenthal and Mr. Clapp look upon the region as admirably adapted for a basic plan of long-range development.

Uncle Sam can thank his lucky stars that two Americans will make the study. Beyond the contemplated development of what at one time was a fertile, productive land, the region lies directly within that area of Russian ambitions. Long before the Communist regime took over in Moscow, a part of the Russian dream was a warm water port on the Persian Gulf, which would have brought Russia directly through Iran to Abadan, now the center of the international oil industry. Fact is, that in the uneasy atmosphere of the Middle East, the valleys of the Karun and the Karkheh Rivers have long been incorporated in Russian hopes of reaching a shipping port open the year around. Now with the current development of oil and gas, the door is at last open to an industrialized Iran, with a greater promise than ever in the days of its ancient glory. The study which is to be undertaken not only involves the agricultural possibilities arising from irrigation but a careful mapping of minerals underground and the possible industrial development made possible by oil and power.

As an indication of the seriousness with which a backward region has entered upon this long-range job of development, covering the period of the next 10 to 15 years, the equivalent of $875 million has already been earmarked from Iran's oil revenue for the next seven years of construction.

Struggle For Influence

It may settle the question of whether there is life on Mars which is becoming more important every day as science gets closer to the goal of interplanetary rocket travel.

We have news for cosmic minded readers. The planet Mars in September this year will be 35 million miles closer to the earth than at any time in the past 32 years. If there are any personal plans affected by the proximity of planets now is the time to make them.

Ike's First Proposal: Remove Tax On 'Time'

WASHINGTON — Canadian officials were not happy, to put it mildly, when the first concrete proposal put before them at the White Sulphur meeting of the North American Big Three was removal of the Canadian advertising tax on Time Magazine.

The fact that the President of the United States personally presented this to the prime minister of Canada ahead of all the other problems facing the world, caused Canadian diplomats to wince a little.

Prime Minister St. Laurent was extremely polite and promised to study the Time Magazine matter. But others in his entourage were privately sarcastic.

And wise cracks went the rounds of the White Sulphur meeting that Eisenhower should feel he had already paid his debt to Henry Luce and Time Magazine by appointing News Luce ambassador to Italy and giving Luce Magazine the Dulles "think of war" interview.

But it was also remarked that it was only natural for Ike to try to remove the Canadian tax on Luce.

The tax is imposed on only two magazines in the United States Digest and The Saturday Evening Post. The Canadian edition of Time is printed in Chicago at a cost that enables it to sell advertising at about one-half the rate of Canadian magazines. Readers Digest is printed in Montreal and also cuts into the advertising revenue of Canadian publications.

Politically it will be difficult for Prime Minister St. Laurent to curtail this tax, even though the request comes from Eisenhower personally. Curtailment would immediately become an issue in the next election, and the prime minister's opponents would claim that he was kowtowing to American imperialism.

U.S. imperialism has now become an issue in Canada for the first time since 1911. Canadians talk apprehensively about being swallowed up by their big neighbor.

Niagara A Glorified Hot-Dog-Pop Stand

The trouble with the human animal is that he is always trying to put fluorescent tubes in Niagara Falls or build a theater marquee on the Grand Canyon.

Not long ago 12 graduate students of the Princeton University School of Architecture went to the Chichén-Itza ruins on Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula and came back with a whole set of plans for a tourist center and museum there. Recent earthquakes south of the border may have been caused by the high speed at which 10th Century Mayan builders have been revolving in their graves ever since.

Not that the students had any real idea that their ranch style hotel, recreation facilities and museum would ever be set down among the Mayan ruins, but don't think for a minute that it won't give somebody else ideas one of these days.

The boys were just practicing to be architects, but just as sure as you're a foot high, someone is going to take them seriously.

Next thing you know there will be a Miami-style tourist hotel at Chichén-Itza, with special swimming facilities in the sacrificial pool and a high priest as doorman. They'll probably have to nudge a couple of old temples out of the way to make room for cabanas and hog dog stands, and after that it won't be long before special trains are running into the place and motels begin to show up along the outskirts.

Governors Have Convention Say

WASHINGTON — United States senators get the Washington press when it comes to conversation about national convention possibilities. Senators are here; they are known; they talk freely. But when the convention delegations get down to brass tacks, the governors are usually the men to see.

President Eisenhower, was nominated at Chicago in 1952 after the then Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York put together a gubernatorial bandwagon which ran over the late Senator Robert Taft. Republican candidates that year controlled 25 of the 48 statehouses and Dewey had the help of GOP governors from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Colorado, among others.

A prime fact in assessing what the rapidly dividing Democrats may do at Chicago next August is that since 1952 they have elected 27 governors. 16 of them outside the solid South. That 16 significantly includes such powerhouses as New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. These, plus Colorado, are precisely the four whose which gave the Eisenhower drive so much steam.

Probably not more than nine Southern states can be counted on to vote as a bloc next August. They NOTE—Ambassador Luce, after helping to lose the 1953 Italian elections to the Communists, has settled down to doing an excellent job in Italy. So maybe the political payoff to Time Magazine paid off.

GOLF VS. DIPLOMACY

President Eisenhower liked White Sulphur's informal diplomacy so much that he wants to try it on Premier Nehru of India when he visits the U.S. in July.

However, State Department officials are not sure it will work with Nehru. The Indian premier is precise and exacting, certainly won't sit by while Ike plays golf as did patient President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico and polite Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada.

Spokesmen for both graciously stated that they were busy with other matters during Ike's golfing. However, the fact is that he spent more time on the golf course than he did conferring with them.

He spent an hour and a half in joint conferences with both the Mexican and the Canadian heads of state, plus an hour with each of them alone. This totaled three hours and thirty minutes.

It is added up to less time than he spent playing eight holes of golf one day, twelve holes the next, plus a final twelve holes. Total, 32 holes of golf.

NOTE — Premier Nehru visited White Sulphur Springs when conducted through the U.S. by Louis Johnson, former secretary of defense, and didn't particularly like the gala dinner given him there. Nehru is a philosopher and mystic. The chief guests invited to meet him were big businessmen.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

At a secret Pentagon meeting, Secretary of the Army Brucker tried to wheedle some money away from the B-52 bomber program. "We don't need more B-52's. We should buy less," snorted Brucker. "The Army needs the money for more important projects." (Copyright 1956, Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

You get something like that started, and it's next to impossible to keep the subdivision people out. There will be a city council, and it will do its damndest to enforce ordinances calling for harmonious architecture and subdued lighting, but that is a losing battle anywhere.

Then, one day, the epitaph of Chichén-Itza will be read off by an over-stuffed matron, burbling to a chance acquaintance, "Mayan runs? What Mayan runs? I came down to see all those glamorous Hollywood people who are here to film that new picture, 'Viking Lovers.'"

I don't want to sound bitter about this, you understand, but I haven't been to Chichén-Itza yet, and I'm scared stiff that it is going to be the same old story.

When I finally got to Lake Tahoe I said to myself, "What a beautiful place this must have been before they put up those hot dog stands and invented motorboats." When the Grand Canyon finally unfolded before me, I thought, "To bad I didn't get here before they filled it up with chewing gum wrappers and box lunch containers. It must have been lovely."

The Hudson Palisades must really have been something to see before the beer cans got there, and the Smokies must have been breathtaking before there were so many half-consumed hamburgers beside the highways.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Seven-League Airborne Boots

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

When you are ridin' the airways with Boots, fella, you had better set that plane down on the runway nice and easy. Or an indignant halfbreed hound will stand up and give a hard cold look at the novice behind the stick.

That fish-eyed look will come from a hard-boiled veteran of the air—a dog with more than 100 hours of flight time including a barrelful of stalls and spins.

For Boots is owned by Flight Instructor George Manes of 7100 Havelock Ave. The pair spend their daytime at the Flight Line hangar at the Union Airport.

Boots will jump into a plane if George even looks sideways at one. The fly-happy dog will quickly stake out a spot just back of the rear seat of a light two-passenger plane. Once he is settled, it is more difficult to dislodge Boots than to pry a nail from a board.

Boots got his first plane ride in Alliance about five years ago. He failed to panic on his first ride. So the canine found a new wrinkle to his dog's life—one that he and his master share together. Today when George indicates that Boots is not to accompany him on an air trip, Boots will run beside the plane down to the end of the taxi strip, planning to go along.

If the plane leaves without Boots, the disgruntled dog takes out his ire by chasing rabbits. But when his master returns, he there one or a dozen planes in the air and no mat-

GEORGE MANES AND BOOTS

... denied a ride, and the rabbits suffer ...

Manes claims his dog has more than 100 hours of flight time. The years Boots has been around Manes, he has never even moved in a prop accident. Boots makes it a practice to steer a wide berth around a prop in motion or at rest. The canine hangs around the hangar from 8 a.m. till dusk, but he will skip off only once and at the same time every day. For Boots has a daily snack break with Manes, a CA employee who feeds him at 4:30 a.m.

When you spot a plane in the sky, be sure you know before you identifies the type of plane around Boots, for he can make a person look mighty foolish with his leveling glance.

STEVENSON WARNS

GOP Drift Is Deadly

By BOB CONSIDINE

(International News Service)
Adlai Stevenson sees victory for the Democratic presidential nominee, preferably himself, next November even in the face of President Eisenhower's acknowledged personal popularity. The public's "new comprehension" of the role of government in the lives of all Americans will be a deciding factor, Stevenson feels.

"Over the past half century, history has thrust great new demands upon our national government," the erudite former Illinois governor told us. "Government was called upon not to manage a thriving new industrial economy but to regulate it so that its excesses would not destroy the freedom of action upon which it depended."

"It was called upon to use the great new national wealth to meet those needs of its citizens which could not be met through private means. And it was called upon to organize the vast resources of the nation for the support of two world wars, and finally to maintain an adequate national defense that may be our (and the free world's) reliance for many years to come."

Stevenson sees full public understanding now of what he stresses are the different views of the Democratic and Republican parties on that historic fact.

"The Democrats grasped the challenge of this half-century as a God-Sent opportunity to improve the well-being of all our people," he told the writer. "The Republicans shuddered at the thought of change and buried their heads in the sand. So, for the most part,

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Violation Of Spirit

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In regard to "Mr. Davis Explains," it seems to me that no matter what the law or circumstance there are also those who endeavor shrewdly to construe the law to their own selfish interests rather than to the law's just purpose—the general welfare. I am not questioning but that there was compliance with the letter of the law.

I think Mr. Davis violated the spirit of the law in the Al Serena timber decision, whether the cause was careless disinterest or shrewd connivance.

I was not greatly surprised by the alibi of Mr. Davis because such elements often use the literal law as a lever against its spirit. Mr. Pearson's observation seems to come much closer to a just appraisal than do the excuses of Mr. Davis. He merely exhibits the literal lever he used and freely admits his blindness to the spirit of the law along with his helplessness to enforce it.

If Mr. Davis had really been looking for precedents in the past he needed only to look back at the last administration where the best interests of the people were held higher than special interests of a few. The Democratic administration turned down Al Serena's request.

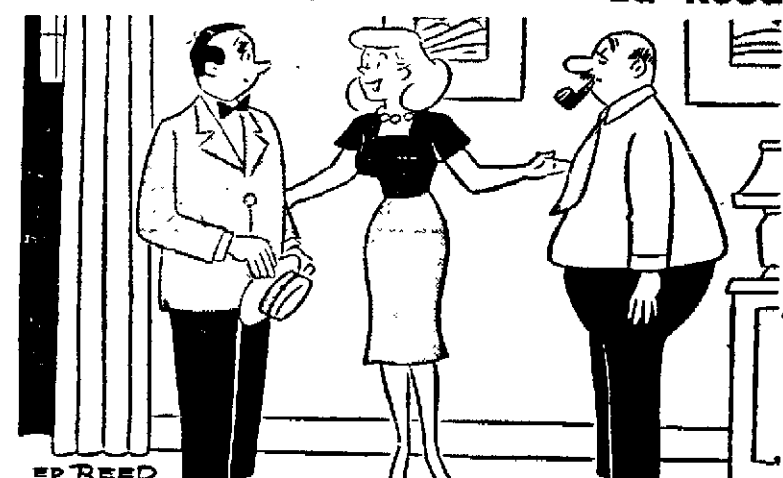

Now that justice has been done to Mr. Davis, with his words of excuse having been heard, let us have justice done to the people and stop this profiteering at the expense of their forests. Mine is but a small voice. I have no personal friends in Washington. How is my interest in the protection of wildlife and our country's great forests to be felt?

Sometimes I wonder whether public officials are more interested in adapting the literal law to special interests or enforcing the true spirit of the law for the benefit of all the people.

West O Annexation Opponents Abandon Village Creation

By BILL DOBLES
Star Staff Writer

A group of opponents to the annexation of 1,210 acres of land on both sides of West O have reportedly abandoned efforts to beat the annexation by incorporation.

Shortly after the annexation was proposed, petitions were in circulation for incorporation of the area as a village.

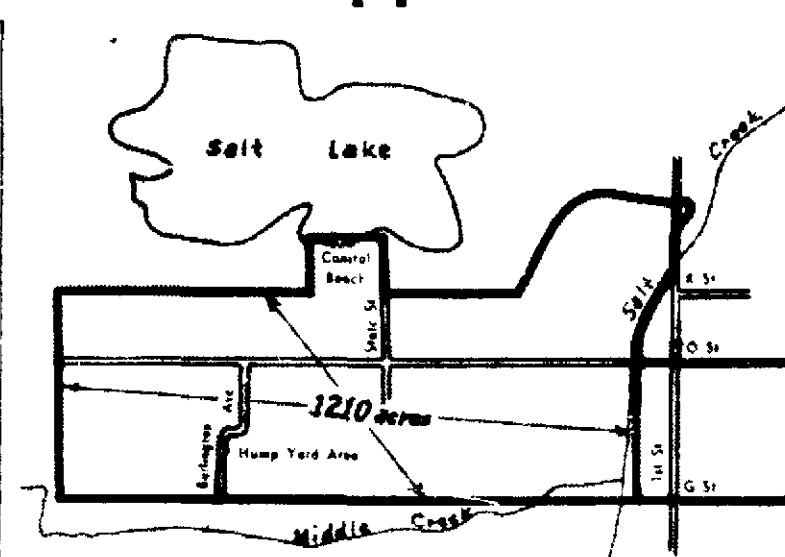

However, Frank Erb, West O businessman, said it was his understanding that the incorporation move is no longer under consideration.

Under state law, the county incorporates an area when a majority of the taxpayers within the area sign a petition for incorporation. A five-member village board is then appointed by the county to get the new village started.

Erb stated, however, that the annexation will probably still be opposed by some parties.

Contact Attorney

It is understood that some property owners in both the West O and Cornhusker Highway annexation areas have contacted an attorney to oppose the addition to the city.

Heavy Black Line (Proposed Annexation)

WEST O PROPOSED ANNEXATION AREA

The annexation of both areas stems from their need for additional city water.

Ordinances were introduced to the City Council Monday which, if adopted on third and final reading, would bring the two areas into the city. The Cornhusker Highway area is a triangular tract of 765 acres bounded by a line 300 feet north of Adams on the north, the Burlington Railroad tracks on the south and 14th Street on the west.

The introduction of the ordinances, however, is no assurance that the measures will pass, according to Mayor Clark Jeary.

Many Problems

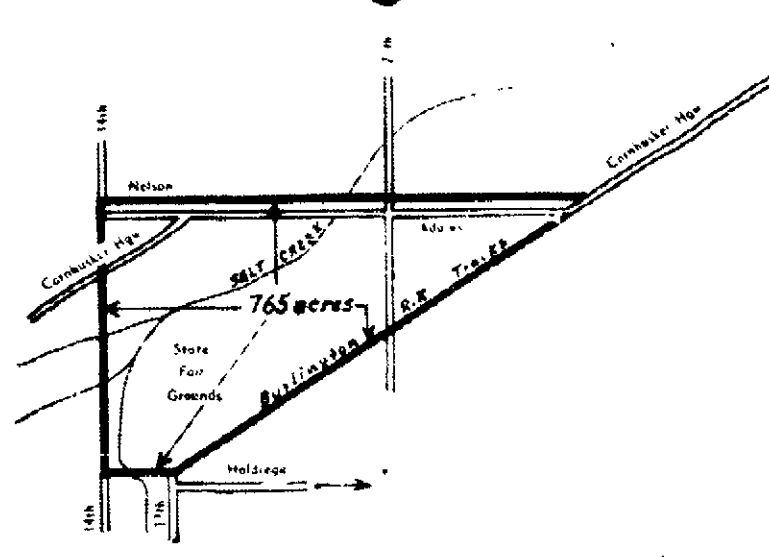

The annexations, he said, propose many problems such as street improvements, fire and police protection and other city services. Jeary particularly questioned the inclusion of the State Fair Grounds.

The State Fair area, he said, cannot be taxed by the city as it is state property but might require police protection if brought into the city.

Also, Jeary said, the West O annexation would just about destroy the school district in that area by taking away most of its tax base. It would also add a burden to the Lincoln School District, he said.

A meeting of people in the West O area was scheduled for 8 p.m. this Thursday at the Lincoln Equipment Co., 878 West O, to discuss the annexation and related problems. A number of city officials will attend the meeting.

Church Destroyed

KEY WEST, Fla. (INS) — Fire destroyed the historic First Baptist Church, where former President Harry S. Truman frequently worshipped in Key West.

The early-morning fire, fanned by 20-mile-an-hour winds, also razed two houses across the street from the church and gutted the second floor of a hotel.

Guests were routed from the hotel but no injuries were reported.

Nebraskan Among Accident Injured

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. Nancy Rugsby, 80, Sparta, Tenn., was killed Monday in an accident involving a station wagon and a truck trailer.

The station wagon carrying five persons came to a stop under the trailer at an intersection.

Seriously injured were the driver, Benton Looney, 55, Sparta, his wife, Mrs. Gracie Looney, and Mrs. Annie Putman, 55, Grand Island, Neb. Less seriously injured was Mrs. Bertha Billings, 54, of Sparta.

George W. Henry, 48, O Fallon, Ill., driver of the truck, escaped with minor injuries.

Nehru Claim Denied

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A Foreign Office spokesman described Indian Prime Minister Nehru's suggestion that there might be military bases in Pakistan-held Kashmir as "completely and utterly untrue." The spokesman said there are no such bases in Azad Kashmir (the Pakistan zone) nor in the northern territories nor anywhere else in Pakistan.

POSTCARD

My Siamese cat is up the oak tree again this morning. And all around below her are the neighborhood toms, with their eyes soft with love and their voices throaty with emotion.

"Come out, come out, wherever you are!"

The Siamese sits up in the oak tree and looks at them. It is very interesting the way she approaches this problem from on high. It not only gives her a new perspective on the suitors. She can also see if any more are coming up the road.

Well, it is a full-time job for me cutting the tame ones and flinging rocks at the wild ones.

I am not too sure-footed on cats. Even the best of them have a way of sitting and looking at you. As though they were dividing you mentally into chops.

I note there is a new book on cats called "The Complete Book of Cats." It sells for 75 cents. Any complete book that sells for 75 cents is a bargain.

The book is written by Mr. Adie Suedsdorf. I presume this is the same Mr. Suedsdorf who toiled with me on the dailies many a gay and carefree year ago. He was a sober and industrious reporter, and I had no idea he knew anything about cats.

Anyway, there are 26,700,000 household cats in the U. S. There are another 500,000 gainfully employed chasing mice out of warehouses and ships and such.

Some 2,000,000 more are pure bums. On the prowl and chasing my Siamese cat up the oak tree. People who own cats usually own two. There are about as many cat haters as cat lovers. The most famous cat hater was Alexander the Great, Napoleon and King Louis XVI.

Among famous cat lovers is Mr. Irving Hoffman, the blade of Broadway. Mr. Hoffman lives in a dreadful deadfall on West 48th street in New York. His cats prowled the neighbors' apartments and scoop up valuable fish from their aquariums.

"Those fish cost $3 apiece, Irving," a neighbor complained.

Mr. Hoffman handed him a $10 bill. "Let the cat have all he wants," he said grandly. "I'll pick up the tab."

If you write to the Employers Mutual Casualty Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, you can buy hospital insurance on your dog. They expect to extend this to cats.

Most of the cats now howling outside my door are advised to take out said insurance. I am loading up the old .45 and my nerves are as taut as a fiddle string. Cats are advised to recall what they make fiddle strings out of and take it on the Arthur Duffy.

I am either going to have Siamese kittens. Or my cat is going to be an attractive young widow.

Ah well it is Spring and love is in the air. I am trying to be understanding. But I am getting a little too much mileage on me for all this emotion.

When we are not in love, my cat is a great help in my daily struggle. She lies in the sun on the typewriter table and gently paws the pencils onto the floor one by one.

She lies on the typing paper. And when I need fresh sheets, I must lift her and draw them out from underneath. This, plus bending over for pencils, has given me the waistline of a ballet dancer. My back cracks like a rusty gate. But oh that waistline!

Flinging rocks has developed by eagle eye. And my arm is as sure as a rifle. And in spite of everything I can do, we are all growing younger every day. All the old toms and I.

Hospital Costs In State 5-10% More Each Year

... But Below U.S. Average

Hospital costs in Nebraska, like everywhere else, have increased steadily, and the rise is expected to continue for many years. This is the first of a series of four articles discussing hospital costs as it affects patients and hospitals in the state.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The cost of living is no respecter of injured or ailing. Like everything else, hospital costs have been working their way steadily higher.

One Nebraskan dealing with hospitals on a state-wide basis estimates the rise to be between 5 and 10 per cent a year.

Ray E. Brown, president of the American Hospital Assn., predicts the rise nationally may continue at 5 per cent annually for many years.

Less Than Most States

Nebraskans can take some consolation from the fact that it probably will cost them less to be hospitalized in their home state than it would in most others.

Executive Secretary Stuart Mount of the Nebraska Hospital Assn. says the 1950 average cost per patient per day to Nebraska hospitals was $11.72. Last year it was $17.29.

During the 1950-55 period the number of beds in use in Nebraska hospitals rose from a total of 5,650 to 6,362.

Compared with Nebraska's $17.29 per day per patient average cost last year, the national average was $22.78.

California's average was $28.74 with individual hospitals reporting costs of as much as $40 per patient per day. Illinois had a $22.08 average with a high of $38.78.

Only eight states have averages less than Nebraska's.

The Nebraska average is computed on the basis of reports from 123 hospitals.

The bigger hospitals among the 123 are faced with higher costs. In Omaha the per patient cost last year ranged from about $16 to $26. Mount says Omaha hospitals generally face higher costs because of higher wage scales.

Generally speaking, Lincoln, Scottsbluff and Hastings hospitals are in about the same class cost-wise, just a notch, perhaps, below Omaha.

Others tend to run somewhat less.

Cyprus Student Riots, Bombs Keep British Jumping

NICOSIA, Cyprus—Students clashed with British security forces in one Cyprus city and bombs exploded in another Monday in new violence on this re-volt-ridden eastern Mediterranean island.

There were casualties to civilians and among the security forces but no deaths. The British again imposed a curfew on one of the trouble spots and closed two schools in the other in an effort to control disorders stemming from demands of the Greek-speaking population for union with Greece.

The curfew was imposed by Limassol after exploding bombs injured an elderly British couple and a 12-year-old Cypriot girl. The youngster was reported in a grave condition at a hospital.

3 Bombs
A British civilian was slain in Limassol, south port city where the British say the Communists are strong. Three bombs exploded there Monday.

The student disorders flared in Paphos, another port city. They set back the British efforts to control violence from that element of the population.

For weeks almost all the schools on Cyprus have been closed, either by government decree because of disorders or by the school boards themselves as anti-British gestures. About 71,000 students have been affected.

Last week a minor back-school movement began—and British officials openly considered it as one ray of light in the darkness.

Two of the schools which had just reopened were the Paphos Gymnasium and the Paphos College—where most of the rioting took place Monday. Both were ordered closed again "in the interests of public safety."

The clash involved several hundred students from 12 to 18 years old, riot police and British troops. A government spokesman said two or three Greek Orthodox priests were seen among the pupils.

At first the students stormed out of their school grounds and marched to the local bishopric of the Greek Orthodox Church—leader in the Cyprus union with Greece movement.

JAP ARMS LEAKING TO ARABS

TOKYO (INS)—Japanese munition makers are trying to jump into the Middle East arms race and despite a government ban, some weapons already are finding their way to Arab countries.

The "leakage" of armaments mainly shells, small arms and bullets, is being channeled without government sanction through non-Arab "middlemen" to Moslem states, it was disclosed Monday by Japanese sources.

If the Japanese government re-rival of police caused them to disperse, after one tossed a bomb which failed to explode.

Half an hour later a new demonstration started and the boys stoned police and British sentries stationed in a nearby police station.

Police and British troops struck back with tear gas. The crowd pressed on. Then the police and troops advanced under a hail of stones into the gymnasium itself. Three bombs were thrown. One failed to go off but a teacher was wounded slightly in the explosion of the other two.

U.N. Arabs Confer
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(INS)—Arab U.N. diplomats met Monday to draft final plans for Tuesday's Security Council meeting on sending Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to the Middle East.

Representatives of Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan conferred privately on co-ordinating action for the Council meeting at which the U. S. will offer further explanations on its proposal to dispatch Hammarskjöld as trouble-shooter in the Arab-Israeli crisis.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who will preside over the 11-nation body as April president, kept in close touch with Washington officials and western delegations regarding early approval of the American proposal.

Although the U. S. diplomat was intent on driving for a vote on the measure by nightfall Tuesday, expectations were that the Security Council would be compelled to hold further meeting this week on the Middle East situation.

Reds Recruiting?

CAIRO (INS)—The Egyptian press published unconfirmed reports Monday that the Soviet Union is recruiting a Moslem brigade which would be ready to help the Arab states if war breaks out with Israel.

The reports were splashed across the front pages of the government-owned Al Gournhouria and other newspapers amid these developments:

1—Egypt boasted that its fleet of newly-acquired Russian MIG jets

laxes its ban—it is waiting to follow the lead of the United States—then there will become available to the Middle East a flood of munitions designed for small-scale warfare.

Most if not all of these weapons will go to the Arab states. This is because Japan's normal trade with Israel is negligible, whereas its trade with other Middle East lands is growing. These Arab countries have already served notice: "No arms to Israel or you lose our business."

would fly civilians to Alexandria and back to Cairo Friday free of charge.

The anti-British attacks by public officials reached a new vitriolic intensity. Minister of state without portfolio Col. Awad Sa'ad, called the British "kulers" in an editorial.

Algerians Riot in Metz
METZ, France.—Forty Algerians were hospitalized and 500 taken into custody after violent demonstrations in Metz Monday.

The Algerians marched through the streets as a sign of solidarity in the "maquis" fight against the French.

A riot police broke them up in sharp clashes.

Futuristic

CHICAGO (INS)—The Boy Scout's traditional love of Indian lore and woodcraft is giving way to the futuristic pressures of science.

More than 1,000 scouts from Chicago's western suburbs are gathering for a pow-wow at the Oak Park-River Forest township high school to see—a rocket ship demonstration called "Men From Mars."

Talks Cleared

TOKYO (INS)—An agreement on the exchange of Japanese and Korean nationals detained by the two sides cleared the path for the reopening of South Korea-Japan talks aimed at normalizing relations between the two Asian neighbors.

The Foreign Office said the agreement was reached at a meeting between Foreign Minister Ma-moru Shigemitsu and ROK Minister Kim Yong Shik.

'Do-Nothing Congress' Charges Bring GOP Reply: 'Too Early'

WASHINGTON (LNS) — A Republican senator said Monday GOP charges that Democrats have been running a "do-nothing Congress" are "not justified at this time."

Sen. Frank A. Barrett (R-Wyo.) conceded there is some substance to the Republican accusation in that legislation appears to be "moving much slower this year."

Stalin Purge Needed To Make Room For New Idol, Says Ex-NU Professor

The present move in Russia's Georgia to discredit Stalin is just an attempt to destroy the former premier's idol that "hangs like a ghost over the USSR," in the opinion of Maj. Michael Ginsburg, former professor in classics at the University of Nebraska.

Maj. Ginsburg now is chairman of the Department of Slavic Studies at Indiana University.

Dr. Ginsburg who received his Ph.D. at Paris University and a doctor of juris prudence degree from Petrograd University, said in Lincoln during a visit the "idol of Stalin has to be destroyed before another can take its place."

"Stalin's ghost hangs over the nation," he said, adding "At least it did until recently." The Russian expert said Stalin interfered with the popularity of the present leaders.

Born in Moscow but now a naturalized citizen, Dr. Ginsburg joined the Air Force in 1943 taking a leave of absence from the University of Nebraska to enlist. With the Air Force he was attached to the OSS, secret operative intelligence force.

He joined the State Department as head of the Political Division, USSR branch, as director of intelligence and research. He stayed with the State Department until 1948 when he joined Indiana University. During his service career, he was consultant on Soviet Affairs for the Air College, Air Force, at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala.

but he insisted it is too early to make a strong judgment.

Barrett declared: "Traditionally, the Congress moves much faster after Easter, and so it might be better to wait until after the Congress adjourns to appraise the situation and render final judgment on the charge that this is a 'do nothing Congress.'"

"Also, to be fair about the matter, it should be pointed out that some Democratic senators have helped materially in getting through parts of the President's program, and so on the whole it seems to me sweeping condemnation of the Congress is not justified at this time. I am still hoping for favorable action on essential legislation such as the farm and highway bills."

This week-end Presidential assistant Sherman Adams backed up recent GOP charges of a "do-nothing" performance by the Democratic-controlled Congress. But Democrats were quick to retort that Republicans were talking too much too soon.

Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) said the Republicans "had better wait until we're finished before they talk."

New Pen Classes Prepare Inmates For Adjustments

Penitentiary inmates go to school at least twice during their confinement under new orientation programs designed to help them adjust to life behind the walls and later to help them meet outside living.

Associate Warden Robert Rudell, who guides the program, commented that although it is too early to determine the overall results, preliminary results are encouraging. He said it has been observed that some prisoners already have "a change of attitude."

The orientation program for new inmates is offered every week night, except Thursday, when a Christian Ethics program is instructed.

During the program prison rules are minutely explained, he said and a book "Character Guidance to Successful Living" has been prepared for the program.

A "pre-release" program, which was established earlier, he said, has been expanded to include all outgoing inmates who desire it.

Adams said in a television interview that President Eisenhower's legislative proposals were "entitled to better consideration than they have or than they are apparently going to get."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) replied: "What Mr. Adams says just not so. There has been no dragging of feet by anybody on the Democratic side. We've done as much up to this time as any Congress I've seen in a long while."

The Republican National Committee called the legislative situation a case of "semi-paralysis" and said it reflected "mounting tensions within the Democratic party."

Airman Fined For Breaking Window

Theodore C. Larkins, 21-year-old Lincoln Air Force Base airman, was fined $100 in Lancaster County Court after pleading guilty Monday to malicious destruction of property.

Larkins was charged with breaking a window early Sunday morning at the Elks Lodge No. 579 located at 212 So. 9th.

Police arrested Larkins inside the lodge after it had closed.

In court, Larkins had no explanation why he broke the window and entered the building other than that he must have been drinking.

Judge Herbert Ronin also ordered Larkins to make restitution for damage.

Overpass Traffic Rules Changed

In order to relieve traffic conditions near the east end of the Harris Overpass, new parking and signal light operations have been ordered into effect immediately.

These include:

Giving southbound traffic on 9th St. at the N St. intersection, a second advantage with the signal. This will help move traffic away from the overpass area, according to Capt. Clinton Hurd, police information officer.

Parallel parking on south 9th St. between N and O on the west side will go into effect immediately.

ly. Parallel parking between 9th and 10th on N also is in effect.

There will be parallel parking on the south side of O St. between 5th and 10th.

The Star In Suburbia

Our trek around the Eastridge area this week was just as much fun as ever since we uncovered news galore that includes a variety of activity—

Stopped first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hagerman who, by the way, have house guests—Mr. Hagerman's brother-in-law and sister, Cmdr. and Mrs. George W. Hoover and their children, Toni and George, who arrived on Saturday from Washington, D. C., for a brief visit in Lincoln. Another guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman was Mrs. Nannie Williams of Filley, who was an Easter week-end guest of her niece and nephew. The family dinner on Easter Sunday was at the home of Mrs. Eva Hagerman.

Leaving on Sunday evening for their home in Dixon, Ill., were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ellis who had been spending a few days as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Greeness.

And speaking of Mr. and Mrs. Greeness, they will be host and hostess to the members of their bridge club on Friday evening at their home.

Hear that Mrs. Ralph Young of Watertown, S. D., arrived on Saturday to spend the current week with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young.

On the Thursday calendar out Eastridge way, is the party for which young Barry Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young, will be host at his home in the afternoon. Barry has invited his neighborhood playmates to help him celebrate his third birthday anniversary, and the big feature will be a birthday cake and ice cream.

Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Morris Heulle have a neighborhood party planned for Saturday evening at their home—The evening's blueprint calls for dancing, conversation and snacks in the recreation room.

Included in the group of guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glatz, Mr. and Mrs. Bo Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Art Mastead,

To Hear Talk

At the regular meeting of the Opti-Mrs. Club next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cy Borland, 1951 Harwood, Mrs. L. A. Enerson will be guest speaker and will talk on LARC School, which is aided by the club.

Chairman of the hostess committee for the 12:45 o'clock luncheon is Mrs. James Ewing who will be assisted by Mrs. Violet Sheaff, Mrs. A. B. Whitmer and Mrs. Carl Larson.

To Be Hostess

The monthly meeting of Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Madison Brewer. During the business meeting, the group will elect officers for the coming year.

Assisting Mrs. Brewer as hostess will be Mrs. Charles Salem.

Officer To Visit

UNDERSTAND that Mrs. Vera Dutton Jones of Colorado Springs, Colo., Alumnae Secretary of Province V. North-Gamma Phi Beta, will be arriving in Lincoln on Friday afternoon for a brief visit with the Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae chapter in Lincoln.

On Friday evening the members of the Lincoln Alumnae group will entertain Mrs. Jones informally at the home of their president, Mrs. Helen McGlasson.

There were house guests everywhere in Eastridge the past week-end—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reynolds had as their guests Mrs. Reynolds' cousins May and Mrs. James Carter and their daughter, Nannette, of Charlottesville, Va.; her aunt, Mrs. M. H. Logan of Paradise, Calif., and Mr. Reynolds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Reynolds of Kansas City.

Easter Sunday was family day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Luedtke whose guests included Mrs. Luedtke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oak Snyder; Mr. Luedtke's mother, Mrs. Caroline Luedtke; his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Luedtke and their children, Mark and Marla, Karyn and Kenneth; and Mrs. Harold Luedtke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. W. Heckel.

House guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Freeman are their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Freeman who came from Ypsilanti, Mich. where both attend Michigan State Normal College, to spend a portion of their Easter holiday in Lincoln. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and their son and daughter-in-law will go to Tulsa, Okla., from where Mr. and Mrs. Brad Freeman will complete their Easter holiday and

Easter Monday Bride

MRS. NEIL DAVID KELLER

The altar of University Church, Episcopal, was appointed with white blossoms and lighted candles for the marriage of Miss Laura Jane Brode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Brode, with the American Embassy, Madrid, Spain, to Neil David Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Keller, Erie, Pa., which was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon, April 2. The service was read by the Rev. William Cross, rector of University Church.

The attendants, Mrs. Charles Kiffin, the matron of honor who appeared in pastel pink; and Mrs. Donald Smith of Ashland, the bridesmaid who wore the deeper pink tone, were identical styled of organza over taffeta. The bridesmaids wore the deeper pink tone, were identical styled of organza over taffeta. The bridesmaids wore the deeper pink tone, were identical styled of organza over taffeta.

from where Mr. and Mrs. Ward Freeman will return to Lincoln.

There were those in Eastridge, however, who spent the Easter week-end elsewhere—Capt. and Mrs. Gerald Custer, for instance, spent the Friday-to-Sunday period in Shenandoah, Ia., where they were the guests of Mrs. Custer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawshe.

And to Columbus for the Easter holiday went Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Wanscott and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Finke, who were the guests of Mr. Finke's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Finke.

A Friday-to-Sunday guest in Eastridge was Miss Bernadette Hewitt of Kansas City, Kan., who was the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Manning.

Tonight is the night that the Eastridge pool group will hold their annual meeting and election of officers when the members meet at Eastridge School. William Golding, president of the association, will preside.

Also on the Eastridge books for this evening is the dessert supper for which Mrs. Boyd Waddle will be hostess at her home when she entertains the members of her bridge eight-some. Included in the bridge group are Mrs. John Hagerman, Mrs. Gene Hammang, Mrs. Cecil Cather, Mrs. Mildred L. Bounds, Mrs. Jack Anderson, Mrs. Wayne Price and Mrs. L. Byrne Swiggart.

Found another name on the guest list—that of Mrs. R. S. McCown of Beatrice who spent the Easter week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller.

by her father, chose a gown of white lace over taffeta for her wedding. The sleeveless empire bodice, designed with a modified off-shoulder neckline, was smoothly sculptured above the extremely bouffant waltz-length skirt. A minute plateau of lace held to the head the fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white carnations.

After a wedding supper, served at the Compass Room, Mr. Keller and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Chicago.

Mrs. Keller was graduated last June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority. During the past year she has been teaching in Prairie Village, a suburb of Kansas City.

Mr. Keller is a graduate of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., where he is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Mr. Keller now is on the coaching staff at Nebraska Wesleyan University and at the end of the school year he and his bride will go to Middletown, Conn., to reside.

AROUND TOWN

THIS first week of April gives promise of a gay spring—Speaking of spring—we heard the geese flying north the other evening—the direction only a goose would go this early in an uncertain season—Anyway, the town is filled with guests and homecomers—and parties for brides-elect—and judging from our calendar this only is a forerunner of what lies in wait along the activity path.

ON our guest list this morning is Dr. Helen Troesch of Cottey

College, Nevada, Mo., who is the house guest of Judge and Mrs. John W. Yeager. Dr. Troesch, incidentally, is an author—Her book, a biography of Virginia Alice Cottey Stockard, the founder of Cottey College, recently was published.

WE have more news of the Yeager family this morning, too—Just learned that Mr. and Mrs. John W. Yeager, Jr., of Omaha have announced the birth of a son, Bradley Nelson Yeager, on Saturday, March 31, at Clarkson Hospital, Omaha. Mrs. Yeager is the former Marilyn Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Nelson of Minden, and an Alpha Omicron Pi at Nebraska. Judge and Mrs. John W. Yeager are the paternal grandparents.

THE past week-end brought Mr. and Mrs. Ernest U. Guenzel home from their early spring holiday—A Caribbean cruise.

AND back in town, also, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Russell who have just returned from Biloxi, Miss., where they spent two weeks as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. Richard Spangler. Lt. Spangler, who is in the legal department at Keesler Air Force Base, will complete his tour of military duty in September.

WHEN Mrs. Stanley Kennedy entertained at a dessert supper at her home on Monday evening it was to honor Mrs. A. G. Paulson who is spending a few weeks as the guest of her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Miller.

From Lincoln Mrs. Paulson, the former Jackie Ullstrom, will go to Norfolk, Va., where her husband, Ens. Paulson, is stationed.

A BRIDE-ELECT, Miss Peggy Larson, whose marriage to Lt. Marvin Stromer will take place next Sunday, is the incentive for which Mrs. Allan Holbert and her sister, Miss Judy Ramey, will be hostesses. The 20 guests, including active and alumnae Gamma Phi Beta sisters of Miss Larson and her hostesses, will present the soon-to-be bride with a miscellaneous shower.

HEAR that Mrs. Livingston Keplinger of New York City, the former Martha Quiggle, will be arriving on Wednesday to spend a few days as the house guest of Mrs. Frank Boehmer and her mother, Mrs. I. G. Chapin. Mr. Keplinger will come on Friday and the two will remain through the week-end.

Betrothal Announced

MISS ARLENE HARPER

Mr. and Mrs. Arla P. Harper of Creston are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Arlene, to Wray Winterlin of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Winterlin of Sioux City, Ia.

A graduate of Wayne State Teachers College, Miss Harper is a member of the Hartley School faculty in Lincoln. Her fiance is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is studying for his M.S. Degree in agronomy.

The wedding will take place on June 13 at the Creston Baptist Church.

Brides

On Thursday evening, April 5, Mrs. Harold Johnson and Mrs. Robert Paine will entertain in guest list—that of Mrs. R. S. McCown of Beatrice who spent the Easter week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller.

A member of Alpha Lambda Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Miss Dinges will be honored by her sorority sisters on Monday evening at a party to be held at the home of Miss Joyce Reinhardt. A shower of gifts will be presented to Miss Dinges after which a dessert supper will be served.

Miss Dinges' fiance is a senior student at the University of Nebraska.

Also choosing a wedding day in May is Miss Sheila Steinauer, whose betrothal to Bruce Schlaebitz was announced recently. The ceremony will take place on Wednesday, May 2, and will be solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral.

Announcing the members of her bridal party is Miss Lillian Hascoolidge, who will become the bride of Louis A. Meinecke, Jr., on Saturday, May 19. The matron of honor will be Miss Hascoolidge's sister, Mrs. R. B. Ross, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Claudette Scott of Hickman, Miss Mary Ann Myers, Miss JoAnn Wagner, Miss Gwen Lass, Miss Marie Florey and Miss Doris Jones.

Mrs. Paul Wendell, sister of Mr. Meinecke, and Miss Shirley Mueller will light the candles preceding the service, and attending their aunt as flower girls will be Miss Valerie Jane Ross and Miss Lynda Diane Hascoolidge. Billy Sheldon will be ring-bearer.

Serving as best man will be John D. Hascoolidge, Jr., brother of the bride-elect, and the ushers will include Woody Oaks, Duane Selk, Dee Erlich, Lt. R. B. Ross, Paul Wendell and Clyde Cook.

Miss Hascoolidge entertained at her home recently when she was hostess to the feminine members of her bridal party. The after-dinner hours were spent informally.

Two Popular Guests

The Easter week-end brought two exceedingly popular guests to Lincoln—Mrs. Donald Hall and her son, Donald, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Hall accompanied his family to Lincoln, but returned to Kansas City on Sunday, leaving Mrs. Hall and young Donald for a longer visit at the home of Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coryell.

Mrs. Hall, as of course you know, is the former Adele Coryell, Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sharrick will have as their houseguests next weekend Mrs. Sharrick's mother, Mrs. L. J. Jones, and her sister, Mrs. L. A. Decker, and Mr. Decker, all of Kansas City, Mo. The guests will arrive on Friday for a long, week end visit.

Guests in Lincoln during the past Easter week-end were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Parkins and their two sons, Roger and Bruce, who came from Battle Creek, Mich., to visit Mr. Parkins' brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. James Farkas, and Mr. and Mrs. De Lo Moulton. After a few days stay in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Parkins and their sons will return to Battle Creek.

There was but a brief hold-up for students at the University of Missouri this year—just a matter of Thursday-to-Monday, but short as it was Miss Caroline Schimmel and her sorority sister, and roommate, Miss Carol Berkowitz of Leavenworth, Kan., called it to the brim with fun and games during their stay as guests of Miss Schimmel's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel.

Rhubarb Pie

RHUBARB PIE

Sift 2 c. sifted Kitchen Craft Flour and 1 1/2 tsp. salt into bowl. Cut in 1/2 c. shortening with a fork till mixture is like small peas. Sprinkle 3 to 4 tbsp. water on top, little at a time, enough to moisten evenly. Mix lightly. Turn onto paper, wrap around; press into a ball. Let rest 15 min. (Rolls easily, shrinks less.) Roll one-half of dough on lightly-floured surface. Use light touch; do not pull. Loosely fit into a 9" pie plate; trim 1/4" beyond plate. Roll remaining dough, cut into 1/2" strips. Fill with fresh or frozen rhubarb. (Follow your favorite recipe for pie filling—using 4 c. fresh rhubarb—adding 1 tsp. ground cinnamon to sugar.) Top with strips of dough, seal and flute. Follow usual baking directions.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Senators Have 'Heart,' But Look Cellar-Bound

By JACK HAND

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — In the Broadway musical "Damn Yankees," the Washington ball club finally hits the jackpot. The Senators sing "You've Gotta Have Heart" to celebrate the year the Yankees lost the pennant — to Washington. It's 100 to 1 it won't happen in real life in 1956.

The Senators have "miles and miles of heart" according to Manager Charlie Dressen, who praises their new spirit, but they simply don't have the players.

Escaping from last place would be a major victory for Dressen with his collection of youngsters from the Boston and New York farms systems. Anything higher than sixth would call for a miracle.

Eddie Yost, Roy Sievers, Pete Runnels and Clint Courtney are the only set regulars with big league experience of a full season. Dressen is doing his best, trying to piece together a "new faces" ball club, built around that base. When he was told that other managers were calling his club the worst in Florida, Dressen bridled. "I hope they keep on saying it," he barked. "We've never been able to field our regular team yet." Only Dressen knows just what his regular team is.

Washington made two major deals during the off season. Pitchers Bob Porterfield and Johnny Vernon and outfielder Tom Umphlett went to Boston for pitchers Truman Cleveland, Dick Brodowski and Al Curtis and outfielders Neil Chrissy and Karl Olson. Pitcher Maury McDermott and shortstop Bobby Kline went to the Yankees for pitcher Bob Wiesler, catcher Lou Berberet, outfielder Dick Tettelbach, infielder Herbie Pless and outfielder Whitey Herzog.

Dressen readily defended the swaps. "Roy Sievers will do as good a job at first as Vernon," he claimed. "If Pless holds up at second base and hits and if Olson can get back his pre-Army stride, we will have helped ourselves.

Pitching Replacements
"Brodowski and Wiesler should do as good for us as Porterfield (10-17) and McDermott (10-10) did last season."

"The thing that hurt us most last year was Eddie Yost being out with injuries. We had to play a bunch of kids at third base until Eddie got back and then he had a bad year. I'm counting on Tettelbach to help us. He hit .309 for Denver last year and looked good until he hurt his leg.

"I'd say our chances depend on Yost, Tettelbach, Pless and the young pitchers all coming through with good years."

Sievers (.271) is the big power man on the club. He set a record for Washington players by hitting 25 home runs last year and figures to hit more this season with the new shortened fence in left field. Sievers, who has played some first base, takes over as the regular, replacing Vernon.

Infield Lineup
Pless (.234 at Denver), a bespectacled ex-Yankee farmhand will play second base with Runnels (.284) shifting to the outfield. Yost (.234) is at third with his sore arm coming around. The shortstop probably will be Jose Valdivia (221), the range Cuban who finished up last season although Lyle Luttrell (.265 at Chattanooga) is making a bid. Harmon Killebrew (.200) a bonus infielder, must be kept until mid-June.

The outfield is a puzzle. If Runnels stays in left, Olson (.250 at Boston) will be in center and Tettelbach in right. If Runnels has to return to the infield, Tettelbach will go to left and Carlos Paula (.299) a good fielding Cuban, will play right. Johnny Groth (.254) and pint-sized Ernie Oates (.270) will be the extras. Bonus outfielder Jerry Schoonmaker, 22, probably will be in service by mid-season.

No. 1 Catcher
Clint Courtney (.309), acquired from Chicago in June, is the No. 1 catcher with ex-Yankee Lou Berberet (.265 at Toronto) and Eddie Fitzgerald (.237) in reserve.

Washington's best looking pitcher is a 22-year-old Cuban, Camilo (Little Potato) Pascual, despite his 2-12 record in 1955. He was the top winner in the Cuban winter league and has been standing them on their ears in spring training to win the opening-day job. Ted Abernathy (5-9), Dick Brodowski (1-0 with Boston), Bob Wiesler (.0-2 with the Yankees), Chuck Stobbs (4-14) and Dean Stone (6-13) are the starters.

For relief, Dressen has Pedro Ramos (5-11), another Cuban with a fine record in winter ball) Connie Grob (11-9 at Mobile), the No. 1 draft choice and Bob Chakales (2-3).

Among the others, the best looker is Hal Griggs (15-9 at Chattanooga).

Dressen doesn't appear to have the pitching, power or defense to better anybody except Baltimore.

Belmont Ruling Makes Owners Happy

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK — East is East and West is West and there will be no excuses for the twin not meeting henceforth in the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes, even if cautious thoroughbred owners, or rather, owners of thoroughbreds, fail to file early entries for all three Triple Crown events.

When Belmont Park recently agreed to take supplementary entries for its share of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds it cleared the path for these hesitant owners. The Preakness has accepted supplementary entries for some time.

The past couple of years have demonstrated the importance of the Belmont action, as the Kentucky Derby winners have come out of the West for that big race, and then promptly retreated to the West because they had not been entered in the Belmont. Consequently there was no chance of a Triple Crown champion.

Apprehensive

Western owners, possibly a little apprehensive of their steeds' chances against the big, bad eastern thoroughbreds, entered their horses in the Derby, that's all. When — surprise, surprise — they found they could whip the easterners, it was too late to bid for the Triple Crown.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympics Committee, was quoted by the Oakland Tribune Monday as saying that he was "honestly concerned over the ability of California to hold the (winter) Olympics in a first-class way."

The 1960 Winter Games have been awarded to Squaw Valley, contingent upon appropriation of $5,000,000 by the State Legislature to finance them.

Present planning at Squaw Valley calls for a commuters' Olympics in 1960. Brundage was quoted as telling Bill Dunbar, Tribune sports writer, in a telephone conversation from his home in Chicago.

"You can't feed these people from hot dog stands or lunch counters along the highway," Brundage continued. "You can't give them accommodations in a roadside motel 10 miles from Carson City, Nev., and as the Squaw Valley resort is right now, that's all you've got."

"You have to have luxury accommodations available for the thousands who will want them. I am told the people in charge of putting on the California games are all competent persons, but I have yet to see any concrete plans stating exactly what is to be done. All I have been shown are some rough preliminary drawings that have a lot of ifs, ands and buts in them."

Bosox Sell Pitcher;
In Final Squad Cut

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The contract of left-handed pitcher Bill Henry, up and down with the Red Sox since 1952, has been assigned outright — to Boston's San Francisco farm club of the Pacific Coast League.

Waivers were obtained to send the 28-year-old hurler to the minors in what will be the final cut of the Sox squad, now 33 strong. Henry had compiled a 15-20 record in the majors.

ness for $7,500, but they couldn't go for the Triple Crown because at the time the Belmont had no such provision. The new Belmont rule accepts such an entry for a $3,000 fee.

Provide Real Test
There is a certain glamor about the three events at that, and, spaced over a period of about two months, and run over distances from a mile and a sixteenth to a mile and a half, they do provide a real test. A long-shot might conceivably win one of the events, but if a thoroughbred wins all three, well, he ain't no lucky stiff, as they say.

The Derby is scheduled May 5 this year, with the Preakness May 19 and the Belmont wending up the competition June 16. Exactly 100 horses have been made eligible for all three, with the $100,000 Preakness outdrawing the Derby in individual nominations, 176 to 169, and the Belmont luring 132 colts.

Assured now that their horses can hold their own, or better, in any competition, California owners are boldly bidding for the crown this year. Andy Crevolin, who skipped westward after winning the Derby with Determine, has made his best two 3-year-olds eligible for the three events. They are Document, a son of Citation, and Swift Boots.

Mish Tenney, who trained Swaps has two horses from the same stable he hopes will bid for the crown. They are Terrang and Like Magic, the latter a full brother of the 1955 Derby winner.

Anyway, no matter which horse wins the Derby this year, it's a safe bet he'll go in the other two events to prove it was no fluke.

Hurling Is Key To White Sox Drive; Hitting, Fielding Solid

TAMPA, Fla. (INS) — It is a little less than six weeks before Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox will have to cut his roster to the 25-player limit but the soft-spoken Pale Hose field boss has made some definite decisions.

In Marion's opinion, the pitching is questionable this season. He only admits that it figures to be as good as it was last season or the season before. He explained:

"If certain things happen, it could be better, but even if it isn't, and it's only as good as last year, the club is in better shape. It wasn't as much pitching as failure to get runs for our pitchers that haunted us last year and the year before. However, this year, I think we'll be able to remedy that."

The principal remedy of course, Marion said, "is Larry Doby." The White Sox had to give up Shortstop Chico Carrasquel and Center Fielder Jim Busby. But Marion thinks "Carrasquel had outlived his usefulness with the club and Busby, although a superior fielder, could not match Doby at the plate."

Marion called the former Cleveland outfielder "The only one of the entire Sox collection of 'name' and high salaries players, pitchers excepted, who started right in during the spring as it was up to him to make a place on the team. He might turn out to be a sensation."

In Carrasquel's place there is Luis Aparicio, up from Venezuela, but with only two seasons of minor league ball.

Aparicio is the nimblest shortstop the Sox ever had. He can throw from any position and throw hard. The rest of the Sox infield will have Walt Dropo at first base, Nelson Fox at second and George Kell at third, with Bob Kennedy as Kell's stand-in, and Kell as Dropo's understudy.

Kell's susceptibility to aches and pains provides one of the major "ifs" of any forecast for the Sox. Granting Kell is able to play at least 100 games, the Dropo-Fox-Aparicio-Kell infield poses no problem for Marion.

The outfield, however, adds more fuel for worry. In Minnie Minoso, the Sox have another problem. Minnie had a poor spring last season and his poorest major league stint of his career.

Damages Said Not Double Jeopardy

Collection of liquidated damages from a person who already has been fined for taking an animal, fowl, bird or fish illegally does not constitute double jeopardy, the attorney general's office ruled Monday.

The fine is levied under a criminal action, while damages are collected in a civil action, Asst. Atty. Gen. Ralph Nelson explained.

"In our opinion, the double jeopardy clause does not preclude the imposition of both a criminal and a civil sanction for the same act," Nelson said.

Small Business Should Get More Defense Contracts—Senators

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Senate committee took the Pentagon to task Monday for its failure to give small business a larger share of the defense dollar.

The blast was issued several hours after the Defense Department itself reported it is doing an increasing amount of business with the nation's 100 largest industrial firms.

The Senate Small Business Committee said "well-meaning" directives have been issued at the Pentagon's top level to give small businessmen a fairer share in the award of defense contracts.

Woefully Short

But, in a report submitted by Democratic Sens. John Sparkman and George Smathers, the committee complained that these directives fall "woefully short of proper implementation at the operation level."

Sparkman, who is chairman of the committee, and Smathers, who heads a subcommittee on military purchasing, said government buying agents "must be made aware of the incalculable contributions which can be made to our defense program by small independent firms."

Their report came out independent of a Pentagon survey showing that in the five year period ending last June, 62 per cent of the Pentagon's prime military contracts went to the nation's 100 largest firms, for a total of $7.1 billion dollars in defense orders.

Leading the field was General Motors, of which Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson was once president. GM won military contracts amounting to nearly seven billion dollars. Nineteen other companies also had orders of one billion dollars or more.

The comprehensive report also showed that during the two years ending last June, 65 per cent of Pentagon purchasing went to the 100 top firms which in the final six months the rate jumped to 68 per cent.

Men Plead Guilt In Car Theft Case

Two Lincoln Air Force Base airmen pleaded guilty Monday in Lancaster District Court to an auto theft charge.

John S. Leonard, 20, and Frank L. Register, 18, admitted by their pleas to stealing a 1941 model car early Monday morning from Harvey Behrens' used car lot at 21st and N.

Police said the airmen put stolen plates on the car in connection with the incident.

Judge John Polk deferred sentencing of the defendants pending an investigation by the adult probation officer.

Interest Picks Up In Municipal Elections

Weather Will Play Big Part In Vote Total

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tuesday's municipal balloting will start the election year ball rolling in Nebraska.

The fact that contests over both candidates and issues have attracted voter interest apparently is indicated by heavier than expected registration of voters.

On the other hand, weather conditions may work against a good turnout in some areas. Colder temperatures, snow and some rain all are forecast for parts of Nebraska Tuesday.

City Hall Issue
One of the more unusual issues will be decided at Scottsbluff, a city without a city hall it can call its own.

The city now rents space for its municipal offices. Voters will be asked, should $128,000 in bonds be issued to finance construction of a city hall or should the city buy the present building and remodel it at $30,000 in bonds to cover the cost?

The biggest issue at stake moneywise is a $160,000 school bond proposal at Fremont. At Grand Island, where the city manager plan is going out the window, a new city council and mayor will be elected to take over under the mayor-council system.

Fire Stations Proposed
Other places where elections are being held include Sidney, Gering, York, Hastings, Columbus, Beatrice, Norfolk, Chadron, North Platte, Falls City and Fairbury.

Kearney and Alliance are among those places not holding elections this year. David City voters and those at O'Neill are balloting on bond issues to pay for proposed new fire stations.

Dalton voters, who two years ago turned down a liquor by the drink proposal, will vote on that question again Tuesday. A $35,000 bond issue to finance construction of a ball park will be voted on at North Platte.

Hoffman Case Is Continued Until June 4

Lincoln Star Special
WILBER, Neb. — District Judge John M. Dierks of Nebraska City granted a motion for the continuance of the Elmer Hoffman trial Monday.

Hoffman is charged with embezzling property valued at $11,400 from the Farmers Union Elevator Company in Wilber.

At the beginning of Monday's trial, County Attorney Alan Steinacher asked leave to endorse the names of 12 witnesses on information. After the judge permitted the endorsement, the attorney for the defense said he was "surprised" and moved for a continuance of the trial.

District Judge Dierks set the new trial for June 4. Hoffman was the manager of the elevator for 12 years and is accused of taking 57,000 gallons of gasoline from the elevator.

Twelve pages of wholesome colored comics, feature stories with plenty of pictures and the big entertainment section are a few reasons why nearly everyone reads the "Sunday Journal and Star."

Wymore Seniors Busy With Odd Jobs For Financing Train Trip To Chicago

WYMORE, Neb. — The 31 members of the Wymore High School senior class have been busy with odd jobs during Easter vacation in a money-raising effort to finance a trip to Chicago.

Some time ago the seniors voted to take advantage of a special railroad tour which includes transportation, meals and a sight-seeing tour of Chicago, in place of the usual sneak day trip.

Since the cost of the trip will be more than $700 it was decided that everyone should pitch in and help raise the needed amount.

Recently the seniors have been washing cars, selling magazines, raking yards, baking pies, and OFFUTT AIR FORCE BASE, Neb. (INS) — The Air Force Monday released the names of two air men killed when their T-33 jet trainer plane crashed near Ellsworth Air Force Base, in South Dakota.

The two were identified as Lt. Paul T. Wren, 24, of Allyn, Wash., the pilot, and Lt. John H. Cootes, 22, of Tacoma, Wash., his observer.

An Offutt Air Force Base spokesman said the plane was en route from Offutt to Ellsworth because of bad weather and a low fuel supply. The jet plunged into a field four miles southeast of the base, which is near Rapid City.

The two air men, both unmarried, were stationed at Offutt.

Plans Key To Broken Bow's Hopes ... For Industry

Broken Bow's industrial potential and sound planning now are the keynotes of the town's industrial aspirations. Now a development corporation is being organized to plan and develop the town's industrial potential and sound planning.

By DAN LUTZ
Custer County Chief

BROKEN BOW, Neb. (AP)—Broken Bow is gearing its industrial aspirations in 1956—as it has in past years—to an existing and proven industrial potential and sound planning.

This is being accomplished by a group set up independently for the purpose.

The Broken Bow Development Corporation was organized to deal directly with representatives of industry who may inquire into Broken Bow's facilities.

Experienced Men

The corporation is made up of experienced men in finance, real estate, loans and business. It is in sympathy with, and assists, the Chamber of Commerce in promotion of industry here, but is organized to act independently and consummate final agreements with industry.

This corporation has acquired options on suitable sites for industry along State Highway 2 and the right-of-way of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad's Lincoln-Billings line which runs through the heart of Broken Bow.

A virtually unlimited supply of fine quality water is a big factor in Broken Bow's ability to support industry.

City Wells drilled 50 years ago still are pouring out about the same amount of water as the day they were drilled. Wells average a little over 100 feet deep here.

The City of Broken Bow Municipal Utilities, which generates power for industrial and residential uses in the city, is debt-free and has invested $120,000 in an improvement fund.

H. P. Heiliger Files On GOP Ticket For County Board

H. P. Heiliger, former state legislator, has filed for the Republican nomination as Lancaster County Commissioner for the First District.

Heiliger, 63, now engaged in the real estate business, has served three terms as a state senator and was a former banker at Plymouth and state bank examiner.

He is a member of St. Paul Evangelical Church, the Odd Fellows and Rebekans. He resides at 1305 No. 42nd.

Incumbent Chris Kuhner has filed for the Legislature.

Others seeking the commissioner's post are Leonard D. Owen, and Atty. Rollin M. Bailey.

BULLET ENDS LOOSE STEER'S TOUR OF CITY

A gambling steer, probably feeling the effects of spring, didn't gamble far enough Monday morning and came under the sights of a 30-30.

The animal broke loose from the American Stores Co. packing plant.

During its travels from 2nd and L to 347 J where it was corralled by Officer Bob Summers, riding a bucking motorcycle, the steer was chased by broom out of two gardens.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp notched his fifth critter by bringing the animal down with a single shot through the head.

State Sedition Laws Have Teeth Pulled By U.S. High Court

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday pulled the teeth of state sedition laws. It said they have been superseded by federal legislation.

Dividing 6-3, the court threw out the sedition conviction of Communist leader Steve Nelson in a state court under Pennsylvania's sedition law.

After reviewing the 1940 Smith Act and subsequent federal laws, Chief Justice Warren, speaking for the majority, said: "Looking at them in the aggregate, the conclusion is inescapable that Congress intended to occupy the field of sedition. Taken as a whole, they evince a congressional plan which makes it reasonable to determine there is no room left for the states to supplant it."

State Law Superseded
"Therefore, a state sedition law is superseded regardless of whether it purports to supplement the federal law."

Warren said Congress has "treated seditious conduct as a matter of vital national concern," and "in no sense a local enforcement problem."

Justice Reed wrote a dissenting opinion which Justices Burton and Minton joined. "We cannot agree that the federal criminal sanctions against sedition directed against the United States are of such a pervasive character as to indicate an intention to void state action," Reed wrote.

Nelson, long a Communist party functionary, was convicted in state court in Pittsburgh. He received a 20-year prison sentence. The Pennsylvania Supreme Court set aside the conviction, holding the Smith Act superseded the state's sedition law. Pennsylvania appealed, asking the U.S. Supreme Court to reinstate the conviction. Instead, the high court affirmed the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Five-Year Sentence
Subsequent to his conviction in state court in June, 1952, Nelson was convicted in federal court there in August, 1953, of violating the Smith Act. He received a five-year sentence on the federal charge. His appeal from this conviction will be argued in the Supreme Court next fall. Nelson is at liberty under bond.

Warren said Monday's decision does not affect the right of states to enforce their sedition laws "at times when the federal government has not occupied the field and is not protecting the entire country from seditious conduct."

But, Warren said, Congress determined in 1940 that it was necessary for it to re-enter the field of antisubversive legislation, which it had abandoned in 1921.

He said the 1940 Smith Act proscribes advocacy of the overthrow of any government—federal, state or local—by force and violence and makes Communist party membership a crime if the Communist is aware of its aim to advocate violent overthrow.

Warren said enforcement of state sedition laws "presents a serious danger of conflict with the administration of the federal program."

Having found that Congress has occupied the field of sedition to the exclusion of parallel state legislation, Warren said, enforcement of state laws would conflict in the operation of the federal plan.

Forty-two states, Alaska and Hawaii have sedition laws of one kind or another. Arizona, Missouri, North Dakota, South Carolina, Oregon and Washington are the only states which do not have such laws.

Attorneys general of 27 states filed legal briefs urging the Supreme Court to uphold the right of states to prosecute for sedition.

Review Decried
In another action Monday, the Supreme Court declined to review a court order calling for immediate ending of racial segregation in elementary schools in Hillsboro, Ohio.

The action, however, may come too late to have any bearing on the present school term and Hillsboro plans complete integration by next fall.

Hillsboro has 25 days to ask for reconsideration. After that, the high court would have to send its formal order to the U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, which, in turn, would have to transmit it to U.S. Dist. Judge John H. Druffell of Cincinnati. Each of these steps usually requires a week or two and by then the present school year would be over.

The Court of Appeals overturned a ruling by Judge Druffell refusing to grant an injunction to require immediate admission of some 20 Negro children to the Webster - Washington School in Hillsboro. The district judge said the Hillsboro School Board was acting in good faith and that its program included building two new schools so there could be complete integration by Sept. 1. The board said some Negroes already are attending the school, and that refusal to admit others was due solely to lack of room for them.

Also Monday, the court agreed to review a decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals here that a union may use "harassing tactics" during contract negotiations to bring pressure upon an employer to yield to its demands.

The National Labor Relations Board filed the appeal, saying the decision threatened to impair the process of collective bargaining.

Involved in the case is an NLRB ruling that the CIO Textile Workers Union was not bargaining in good faith with the Personal Products Co., which has a plant in Chicago.

The board said the union's tactics included organized refusal to work overtime, slowdowns and unannounced walkouts. The Court of Appeals, overturning the NLRB, said "there is not the slightest inconsistency between genuine desire to come to an agreement and use of economic pressure to get the kind of agreement one wants."

'SEE YOU NEXT YEAR,' IKE TELLS EGG ROLL 'FOLKS'

... FRIENDLY OR CONFIDENT?

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A smiling President Eisenhower welcomed "folks" to the traditional Easter egg rolling on the White House lawn Monday and told them:

"It is good to see you all. See you next year."

This last remark started some political conjecturing — was it confidence being expressed by a man who is up for re-election? Or was it just a friendly invitation extended to a happy, cheering throng on a sunny day after Easter?

5,000 'Rollers'
A crowd estimated at almost 5,000 covered the new spring green of the White House lawn when the President and Mrs. Eisenhower stepped out into the warm haze-filtered sunshine about 11:05 a.m.

Arm in arm, they posed smiling for the camera fans in the crowd, ranged behind a temporary paling and wire fence along the curve of the south driveway.

As they strolled down the fence line, the President picked up first a lavender egg from an outstretched hand. Then along the line a little girl thrust an Easter basket full of pastel colored eggs into his hand.

From then on, Eisenhower paused at intervals to pass out an egg or shake a child's hand.

'Hello, Folks'
He chuckled a baby under the chin; he said "Hello, folks," and he warned some boys about leaning too hard on the fence. Down the line he went, hatless, in a brown suit and tie. Mrs. Eisenhower, in a red suit and black seal stole, strolled with him.

Then the two climbed the outside stairs to the second floor balcony installed by former President Truman. There the President spoke over a microphone.

"Good morning, folks," he said. "Mrs. Eisenhower and I wanted to come out just to welcome you to the White House grounds. We are delighted that you have such a nice day for the egg rolling. We hope everyone has a splendid time and comes back again next year."

Mumps Trouble
Mrs. Eisenhower whispered something to him then, and the President added, "We are sorry that our own grandchildren couldn't be here, but you know, one of them has had the mumps and so they have to stay sort of by themselves."

Little Barbara Eisenhower, 6, has had the mumps but was recovered enough to pose for family pictures along with her brother and two sisters.

Nobody was admitted to the White House grounds Monday unless accompanied by a child under 12.

Martin Will Not Seek Re-Election As State Senator

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — State Senator Joseph D. Martin said Monday he will not seek re-election to the 30th District legislative seat he has held for two terms.

Martin said he would be too busy to hold the legislative post. He is an attorney and recently bought out an abstracting firm.

At the time of his election to his first term in 1952 he was 27 and the youngest member of the unicameral.

Three others have filed for the seat. The 30th District includes Hall and Merrick Counties.

Dr. Snyder Says Ike To Make 2nd Report To Nation On Health

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The President's personal physician said Monday that Eisenhower is now fully recovered from his heart attack and will make one more formal report to the nation on his health before election.

Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder said the President is "in shape" to do some campaigning and has just as much vitality as he had before his heart attack last Sept. 24.

Gen Snyder spoke at a Founders' Day luncheon of Presbyterian Hospital here. He was an intern at the hospital in 1905-06.

Before Convention

Dr. Snyder said the President will tell the nation about the state of his health just before the Republican National Convention next August.

Various estimates by outsiders concerning the President's work schedule are "very inaccurate, to say the least," Dr. Snyder asserted. He noted the President works even while vacationing and sees many persons outside of his official schedule.

"Just how far he goes in campaigning is a matter of the President's own discretion," Dr. Snyder said. He added that the President should have no trouble traveling any distance on a pressurized airplane. A nonpressurized craft would mean shorter trips at lower altitudes.

"It is my honest conviction, from very intimate association with him," Dr. Snyder continued, "that the President has had a group of critical problems to solve and difficult decisions to make during the last four months that surpass any decisions during any similar period I have known him."

He has been the President's personal doctor since 1953, and first met Eisenhower, then Allied supreme commander in North Africa in 1943.

New Sidewalk Order Killed By Objections

The City Council has reconsidered a previous action and killed an order for construction of a sidewalk along the west side of 40th from D to Randolph.

A number of property owners along the street had objected to construction of the sidewalk. The Council considered several alternate lines for the walk before voting to abandon its previous order.

Two Battles Averted In Milk Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Two pitched battles, one of which would have involved 500 men, were narrowly averted Monday as nonstriking dairy farmers ran blockades of stone-throwing pickets to get milk to the big Detroit market.

Major creameries reported they got 40 to 60 per cent of their normal supply Monday the eighth day of the strike. Detroit police said they convoyed 150 trucks to creameries.

A pitched battle, which would have pitted 250 nonstrikers against an equal number of strikers, nearly broke out at Ovid, 90 miles northwest of Detroit. Ovid and nearby Elsie were the scene of windshield smashing Sunday.

'Going In'

Nonstriking farmers, 250 strong, assembled a mile from an Ovid milk receiving depot and announced they were "going in" to free seven tankers hemmed in by 250 pickets since Saturday.

State police, fearing a major bloodshed, got leaders of the two groups together with them.

Finally pickets gave way at the urging of Jerry Kurka, a vice president of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., which called the strike in an effort to force creameries to raise prices to farmers from $4.41, a hundredweight (45 1/2 quarts) to $6.50.

Two leaders from each side agreed to meet and attempt to work out a settlement of their differences.

Two Young Airmen Fined For Taking Shots At Auto

Two 19-year-old airmen, who admitted shooting holes in a car, were each fined $200 in Lancaster County Court Monday on charges of malicious destruction of property.

The airmen, Charles Pool and Martin A. Pantle, both stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base, pleaded guilty to the charge involving a 1930 model car owned by Wilfred C. Schmidt.

Schmidt's car had stalled Sunday near the Yankee Hill Cemetery and he had hitchhiked to town for some tools.

Deputy County Attorney Dale Fahrbruch said the airmen, who admitted they had been drinking, shot four or five holes in the car with a 22-caliber rifle they had.

The youths told Judge Ronin they had been "shooting at a beer can" and didn't know they had hit the car until after they had driven by it.

Judge Ronin also ordered the defendants to make restitution for damages, estimated to be about $45.

One airman, clad only in jeans when arrested, appeared in court with a "borrowed" shirt, but without shoes.

Driver At Friend Found Guilty Of Reckless Driving

Lincoln Star Special

WILBER, Neb. — A jury here late Monday returned a verdict of guilty against James Stofer, 69, friend driver charged with reckless driving.

The charges were an outgrowth of a highway accident near Friend March 3 in which Marine Lt. Curtis E. Hays, stationed at the Naval Ammunition Depot at Hastings, lost his life. At an inquest following the accident, a coroner's jury recommended filing of the reckless driving charge.

The six-man jury in the justice of peace court deliberated three hours Monday before returning the verdict.

Among the witnesses at the Monday trial was Duane Shepard of Lincoln, who testified from a hospital stretcher. He has been hospitalized in Lincoln as a result of injuries received in the accident.

Judge Henry H. Dietrich said he will pronounce sentence against Stofer Friday.

Council Postpones Scheduled Hearing On Condemnation

The City Council has laid over until April 30 action on a hearing for condemnation of the building at 1032-34-36 P.

By this, the Council intended to give the owner time to determine the cost of improvements needed to bring the building into conformity with the city's building, fire and health codes.

In a hearing on the proposed condemnation, Building Inspector Ed Vorhees said the upper two stories of the structure were a "definite fire hazard" and should be torn down. He noted such deficiencies as exposed wall plaster lathes, a single open stairwell to the upper floors, open gas burners for heating individual rooms and falling wallpaper.

The quarters in question are among six locations where the city has ordered an immediate evacuation of tenants. This is the first hearing on proposed condemnation of any of the six structures.

"Ben-Gay gave me a new lease on life—relief from pain!"

Says Mrs. Louise Pirz of Lynbrook, Long Island:

"I had tried many other products before I discovered Ben-Gay," writes Mrs. Pirz, "but they didn't give me the real relief I wanted from the pain in my shoulder and arm. To tell the truth, I felt as though I were only half alive. The pain bothered me that much! What a difference with Ben-Gay! The pain eased up in no time. I wouldn't be without it!"

Yes, there's nothing like BEN-GAY! Its world-famous scientific formula contains up to two and a half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins. BEN-GAY's exclusive medication works two ways: First, it stimulates the blood supply to the painful area. Second, its pain-killing action goes to work instantly to bring about, soothing relief.

If you suffer the distress of muscular or rheumatic pain, see what welcome relief Ben-Gay can bring. Ben-Gay acts fast where you hurt!
